Ohio Bell Plans To Ask PUCO For Rate Hike

Amount of Increase Not Yet Determined, Local Manager Says

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. told the Public Utilities Commission Monday that it plans to file a rate increase application early next year, to stem the decline in earnings.

Paul Dougherty, Ohio Bell commercial manager for Fayette County, said that the amount of the overall increase to be sought, and what services will be affected, will not be known until current rate studies are completed.

"I hope telephone users will reserve any opinions on the company's action until the new rate announcement is made," Dougherty added.

FORMAL NOTICE of the company's intentions was given the PUCO in Columbus by Ohio Bell Vice President L. T. Pendleton in a letter which said the company's rate of earnings has been steadily declining and will decline still further. The notice is intended to give the commission engineering and accounting staffs time to include a study of Ohio Bell property and records as part of its work schedule in the immediate future.

"What it boils down to is that our costs have increased faster than revenues in the past few years," Pendleton said.

"We have had a succession of annual wage increases since our last rate application in December 1953 — one each in the years 1954, 1955 and 1956. In addition, our tax bill and the cost of materials and equipment have continued to go up, and the result has been a downward trend in earnings which presents a serious threat to our financial strength and our ability to serve the public, especially in view of our present plans to add $250,000,000 in new equipment, lines and buildings in the next three years."

PRELIMINARY work on the rate application is under way.

Present rates, growing out of the 1953 case, have been in effect since January 1, 1955.

THE THREE ROUNDS of wage increases and other employee benefits negotiated since 1953 have added 13 million dollars to the annual cost of doing business, the company estimates. This alone is nearly double the amount of the last rate increase.

Agreement has not been reached with the union on the company's current offer of a general wage increase and other contract changes which, coupled with other 1957 salary adjustments already in effect, would add another 5 million dollars to company costs.

"We have tried to hold the line on rates by tightening our expense belt and taking advantage of new developments in equipment," Pendleton said, "but this has not been (Please Turn to Page Twelve)

Churchmen Express Worry About Space Age Effects

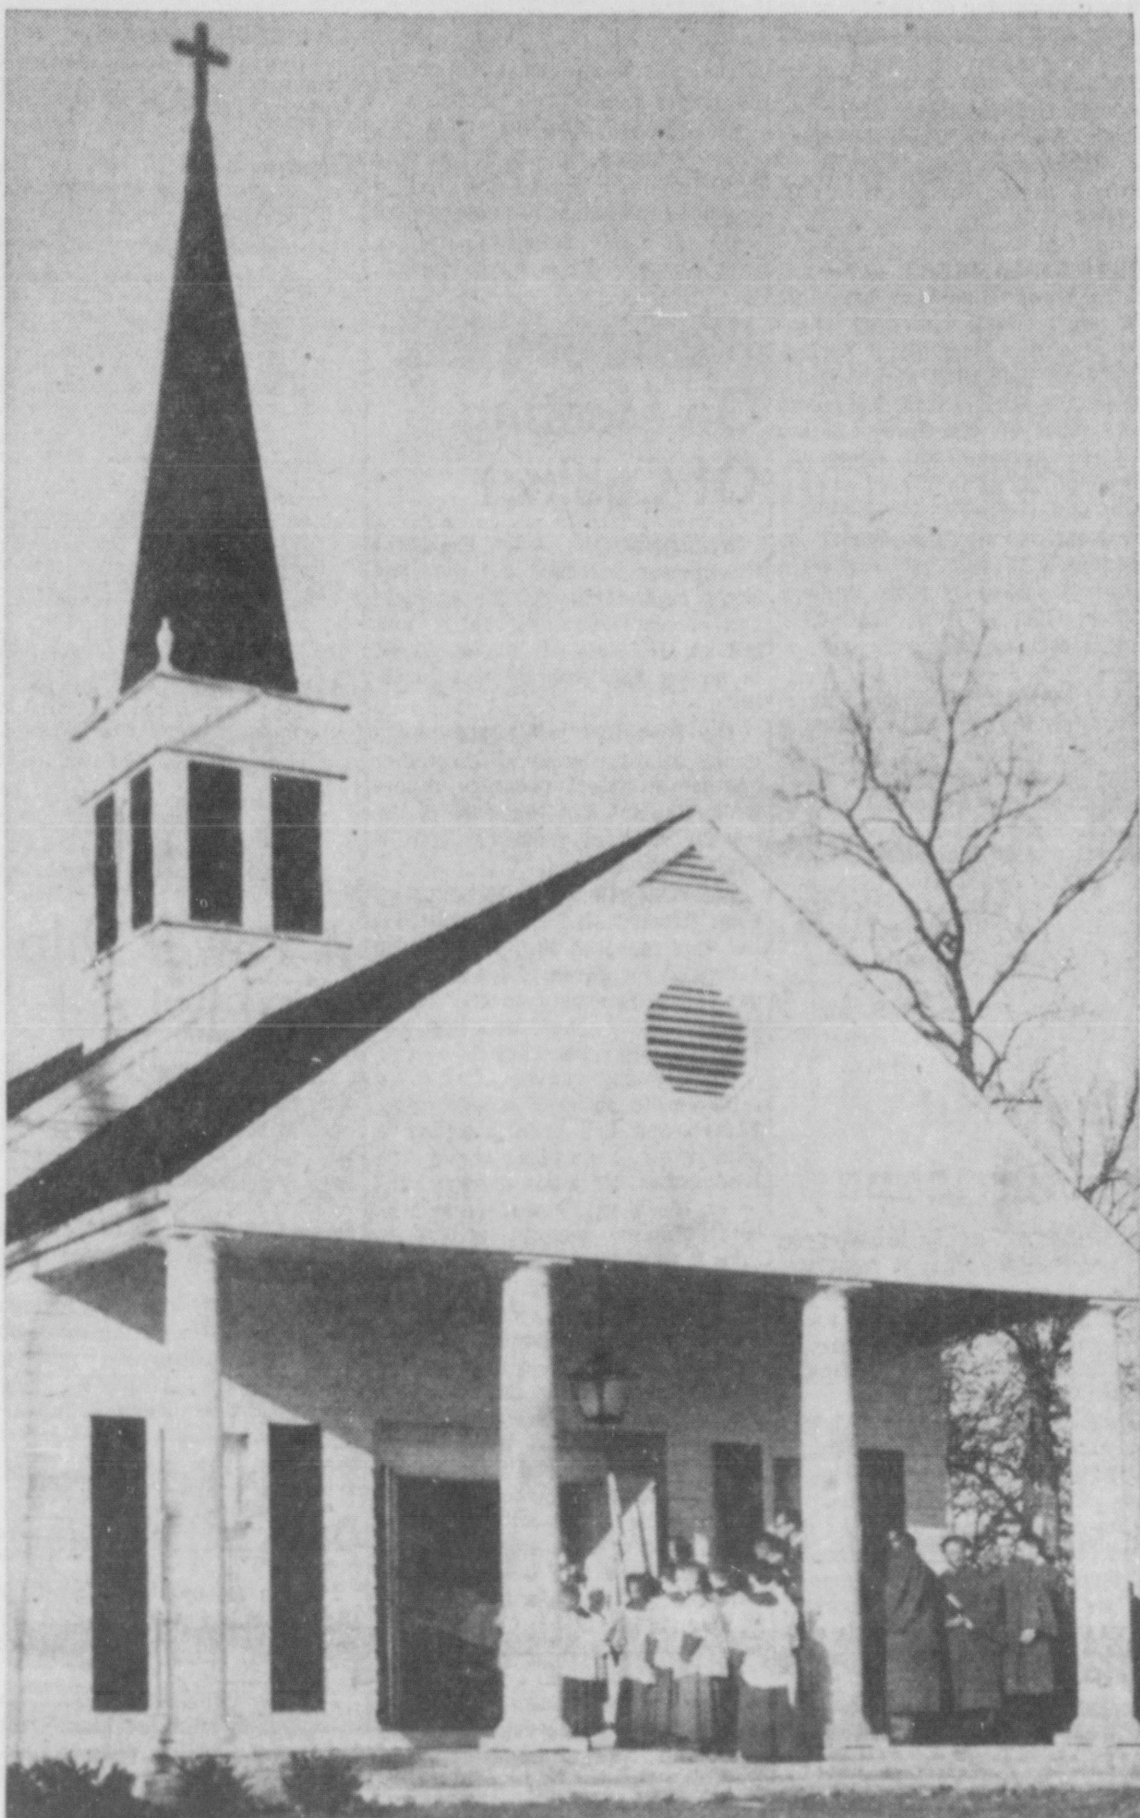

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Church leaders said today Christian forces in America are pulling together as never before — but that they face sober, new challenges in a dawning age of nuclear power and space travel.

The relation of "nuclear-space" developments to religious faith was brought up in an opening business session of the Triennial General Assembly of the big National Council of Churches.

There also was a prediction that the Council, a varied cross-section of U.S. churches, will send a deputation to renew contacts with Christian leaders in Red China when feasible.

At the same time, an executive report said that advances in man's physical powers — including explorations into outer space — threaten to overshadow the

Reward of $1,000 Offered For Killer of Mrs. DeWitt

A reward of $1,000 "for information leading to the detection, apprehension and conviction of the murderer or murderers of Mrs. Sarah C. DeWitt, whose death occurred in Fayette County July 2," was put up Monday morning by the county commissioners.

The reward, posted exactly five months after the killing, was offered after consultation with Sheriff Orland Hays and County Prosecutor Rollo Marchant, who have guided the intensive investigation of the crime so far.

"Investigation from all angles has not produced enough evidence to make an arrest," Sheriff Hays said.

Crowd of 1 Fails To Stay for Cheer

MOIFETTA, Italy (AP)—In falling snow amid frigid temperatures Moiffetta's soccer team beat Martina Sunday 2-0.

At the end, players of both teams turned to the stands to give the crowd a cheer—a crowd of one. But the spectator had left—probably to get warm—before anybody got his name.

The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, of Philadelphia, the Council's president, said participation of churches still outside the Council is needed to make a stronger Christian impact on the life of the nation. He mentioned specifically the Southern Baptists and the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

These two bodies, along with the Roman Catholic Church, are the only large denominations not in the Council.

The assembly opened Sunday night with a colorful worship service. Twin lines of robed delegates marched down the aisles of the city's big Kiel Auditorium to the strains of organ music and high-note trumpet calls.

County Board Gives Acreage For Eastside School to City

The Fayette County Board of Education, at its regular monthly meeting Saturday afternoon, unanimously approved transfer of approximately 20½ acres at the intersection of Elm and Willard Sts. from Miami Trace District to the Washington C. H. City School District.

The transfer had been requested by the Washington C. H. board at its last meeting. The board has an option on the land, owned by the Ohio Water Service Co., as a site for a new $270,000 Eastside School. Only 10 of the 30 acres were within the city school district.

First Murder Trial In 25 Years Opens In Holmes County

MILLERSBURG (AP)—Holmes County's first murder defendant in 25 years went on trial today for the slaying of a young Amish farmer last July 18.

Cleo Eugene Peters, 19, of Muscatine, Iowa, is accused of the first degree murder of Paul Coblenz, 25, during a robbery attempt at the latter's farm home.

Michael Dumoulin, 20, of Wooster, who is also accused of the crime, will go on trial for first degree murder in January.

The two men who entered the Coblenz home are said to have become enraged upon finding only $9 in Coblenz' billfold and the two advanced on his wife, Dorie, 26. They threatened to kill the couple's 18-month-old daughter unless Mrs. Coblenz submitted to their advances.

When Coblenz tried to run for help he was shot in the back with a hunting rifle. The killer then fired a second shot into his head.

The program will be carried out in two phases: (1) in each county and (2) in the four-county district. It will follow the same pattern as that of the two previous years.

Students will participate in the program through a display of their projects, a demonstration and a verbal explanation of them.

They may enter any one of four categories: (1) engineering, (2) physics, (3) chemistry and (4) biology.

Indiana Senate Deal Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP)—A report circulated in Indiana Republican congressional circles today that Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) may resign before the end of the year and that the state's governor, Harold H. Handley, may take his place in the Senate.

Jenner announced Saturday in Indiana he wouldn't seek reelection next year for a third six-year term. He didn't say why.

His announcement that he will retire from politics and enter law practice in Indianapolis was made by State Republican Chairman Robert Matthews.

Matthews said Jenner surprised Handley and Lt. Gov. Crawford F. Parker by telling them last Tuesday of his intentions.

The congressional sources said Jenner at that time told Handley and Parker he would resign by Jan. 1, "if you can get together on a successor." All three are members of the same wing of the warring Indiana Republican party.

ACCORDING to the informants, this is the plan:

Jenner would resign from the Senate. Handley would resign as governor, a post he won in last fall. Parker would be elevated to governor and immediately name Handley to the Senate.

Handley would serve in the Senate until Indiana voters elect someone in next November's election for the remainder of Jenner's term, which expires Jan. 3, 1959, as well as a senator for the next regular six-year term.

"I don't think the mere shoveling of dirt is going to solve this problem."

Navy Vanguard Launching Set For 5 A. M.

American Grapefruit Size Satellite To Be One of Series of Six

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Scientists and technicians continued preparations today for Wednesday's scheduled firing of the Vanguard rocket designed to put a grapefruit-sized earth satellite into orbit.

There appeared no chance that the Navy's three-stage rocket would be launched before the 5 a. m. Wednesday hour which has been set for blastoff.

The big Vanguard has been seen on the launching ramps in recent days. There has been no announcement so far on whether newsmen will be permitted inside the top-secret missile test center for the firing or whether they will have to watch and take pictures from several miles away.

The U. S. has hopes of firing from two to four of the six inch satellites this month and to follow these with a larger fully-instrumented artificial moon as soon as possible.

THE LITTLE satellites would not be visible to the naked eye. Though they would catch the sunlight at immediately before sunrise and after sunset, their reflecting surfaces would be so small that watchers without special equipment could not catch their gleam.

However, some experts have reported that the final section of the Vanguard rocket may be visible.

Meanwhile, U. S. and British scientists say there is every indication Russia's satellite rocket, which put Sputnik I into orbit Oct. 4, plunged to its death Saturday night.

But where it fell, and when, remained a mystery in the face of widely scattered claims to seeing it fall.

Sputnik I still is circling the earth, as is the Soviet dog-carrying satellite Sputnik II, which was launched Nov. 3.

There were several reports of flaming objects being sighted over the weekend. One of these, from Fairbanks, Alaska, coincided with the predicted passage of the rocket over that city, and it was being investigated further.

But the other sightings apparently involved something other than the rocket. Some experts also discounted the Fairbanks report, saying the object probably was a giant fireball, or meteor.

RUSSIA HAS had nothing official to say about the rocket's fall. But a Moscow radio broadcast said the rocket had completed 894 orbits as of 10 p. m. Sunday. An earlier broadcast said the rocket would be visible today.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said the rocket's end may have come on its 879th trip around the earth.

Prof. Alfred Lovell, director of the radio telescope station at Jodrell Bank, England, also said he concludes the rocket no longer exists. Lovell discounted the Moscow radio reports, and said the Russians "were probably fishing for information."

The last confirmed observation of the rocket was made by the Calif., at 7:11 p. m. Saturday.

Weekend Accidents Kill 22 in Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP)—The heaviest weekend traffic toll in four weeks was recorded in Ohio from 6 p. m. last Friday to midnight Sunday.

An Associated Press survey of that period showed that, at least 13 persons died in highway accidents and nine others perished in miscellaneous incidents.

The traffic toll took a severe jump from the previous weekend when only four persons died, perhaps the lowest highway fatality count for any weekend this year.

The weekend before that six persons died in traffic and the weekend before that 11. A high toll of 23 was recorded five weekends ago.

Ohio Bell Plans To Ask PUCO For Rate Hike

Rivalries Slowing Missile Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Republican senators said today a Senate investigation into the missile program indicates the need for greater armed forces unification.

Senators Bridges (R-NH), Saltonstall (R-Mass) and Francis Case (R-SD) said they believe interservice rivalry has slowed down missile and satellite development.

Along the same line, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) proposed that a Defense Department coordinator be given authority to transfer various funds into those missile fields that are most promising.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, former head of the Office of Scientific Research and Development, told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee last week the missile program had been hindered by damaging and "sometimes disgraceful" competition between the services.

BRIDGES SAID he doubts any move is in the offing to change the present system at the top. He said he expects the subcommittee to recommend tightening up service cooperation on the lower levels.

"I have confidence in the ability of Secretary of Defense McElroy to make some beneficial changes," Saltonstall said. "I believe he can find ways under the Armed Forces unification law to make certain that the services work together, not against each other, in this vital field."

Case said he thinks President Eisenhower ought to appoint a commission to recommend changes which will centralize authority over missile and satellite development.

Knowland said that Eisenhower apparently is the only official who now has the fund transfer powers the senator is proposing for the missiles coordinator.

"I do not believe we are going to get full coordination in the program unless the operating head of it is clothed with sufficient authority. The only way he can get that is to have the necessary authority to transfer funds from one missile development project to another," Knowland said, adding: "I don't think the mere shoveling in of additional funds is going to solve this problem."

Dr. Simon Ramo, top Air Force missiles scientist, said a 10 to 25 per cent expansion of the present missile program is needed, but he said work to date has not been held up by lack of money, top scientists' or help from industry.

RUSSIA HAS had nothing official to say about the rocket's fall. But a Moscow radio broadcast said the rocket had completed 894 orbits as of 10 p. m. Sunday. An earlier broadcast said the rocket would be visible today.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said the rocket's end may have come on its 879th trip around the earth.

Prof. Alfred Lovell, director of the radio telescope station at Jodrell Bank, England, also said he concludes the rocket no longer exists. Lovell discounted the Moscow radio reports, and said the Russians "were probably fishing for information."

The last confirmed observation of the rocket was made by the Calif., at 7:11 p. m. Saturday.

Weekend Accidents Kill 22 in Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP)—The heaviest weekend traffic toll in four weeks was recorded in Ohio from 6 p. m. last Friday to midnight Sunday.

An Associated Press survey of that period showed that at least 13 persons died in highway accidents and nine others perished in miscellaneous incidents.

The traffic toll took a severe jump from the previous weekend when only four persons died, perhaps the lowest highway fatality count for any weekend this year. The weekend before that six persons died in traffic and the weekend before that 11. A high toll of 23 was recorded five weekends ago.

Students To Receive Recognition for Achievements

Science Awards Competition Set

High school students in Washington C. H. and Fayette County again will have a chance, not only to show their scientific skills and knowledge, but also to receive recognition for their achievements in competition with other students in Fayette, Clermont, Butler and Clinton counties next April.

Although the third annual (second here) Science Awards Program climax is still more than four months away, preliminary preparations already are under way.

The program will be carried out in two phases: (1) in each county and (2) in the four-county district. It will follow the same pattern as that of the two previous years.

Students will participate in the program through a display of their projects, a demonstration and a verbal explanation of them.

They may enter any one of four categories: (1) engineering, (2) physics, (3) chemistry and (4) biology.

THE PROGRAM is being sponsored in Fayette County by the Armco Drainage & Metal Products Co. and the National Cash Register Co. Co-chairmen are H. S. (Bud) Stemple, of Armco, and William Hastings, of NCR. In the background will be A. H. Hutton, general manager, and Elmer Reed, industrial engineer, of Armco, and Joseph Peters, general manager of NCR here.

The sponsors have invited science teachers, principals of all five high schools, and superintendents to be their guests for dinner Dec. 5 in the private dining room of the Potel Washington when the program will be explained to them.

Application blanks also probably will be given to the teachers at this time, so they can hand them out to the students.

Rules for the competitive phases of the program will be explained, too, and details concerning time and procedures for entering exhibits will be worked out.

JUST WHEN and where the county displays will be set up has not been decided, but the co-chairman said that, inasmuch as the district exhibit is scheduled for April the county exhibits will be made here only a short time prior to that.

Committees to study some other phases of the program also may be named at the dinner meeting, the sponsors said.

The district program exhibits for top honors in the four-county area will be held at Wilmington College.

He Thinks Draft Board Has Gone A Little Too Far

OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—M. Sgt. Virgil D. Flynn, 55, a military man since 1921, thinks the Tacoma, Wash., selective service board has gone a little too far.

He received this week a postcard from the Tacoma board announcing he is available for order to active duty. This wasn't Flynn's first difficulty with a draft board.

In 1942, when he was with an Army Air Corps unit in Greenland, the sheriff called at his home in Omaha, Neb., to serve notice he was to appear before the local board for induction.

Flynn told the draft board then he was willing to leave Greenland but the Army couldn't see the trip as necessary.

He now is stationed with headquarters of the 33rd Air Defense Division in Oklahoma City.

Mystery Lights Spotted in Area

Those mysterious lights are still showing up in the sky over this area.

The latest report was of three lights which appeared for little more than a minute, in the north-eastern sky at 9 p. m. Saturday.

They were spotted after having passed the zenith, going from south-east to northwest, and about evenly spaced, with the dimmest of the three in the center.

These lights were moving rapidly, were definitely not lights of airplanes and resembled moving stars observers said.

They appeared to be satellites not too high in the heavens, and those who saw them could find no logical explanation — unless they were artificial satellites passing over central Ohio at terrific speed.

Ike Sitting In On Meeting Of Cabinet

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower returned to the nation's capital today from a week-end at his Gettysburg farm and got an OK from his doctor to sit in on an afternoon Cabinet meeting.

The President left his Pennsylvania country home after getting another excellent progress report from his doctor at the start of the second week of recovery from a slight stroke.

The White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said earlier this morning that Eisenhower arranged for an early lunch and a nap after returning to the White House. The Cabinet meeting was expected after the nap.

Convalescing rapidly from a mild stroke suffered a week ago, Eisenhower has been handling a light work routine since last Wednesday. He has not been back to his desk yet, however, and he is still under doctors' orders to take it easy for several weeks.

He traveled to his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., Friday afternoon. It was announced Sunday he had decided to return to the White House rather than stay on for further convalescence.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said he had no word yet on whether the President will be able to sit in Tuesday at briefings of congressional leaders, or whether he will be able to attend the NATO conference in Paris, Dec. 16-18.

The first ship-to-shore radio telephone conversation took place in 1917 between the captain of the battleship New Hampshire, off Hampton Roads, Va., and the secretary of the Navy in Washington.

$11,519; Figure
Last Year $9,911

Tax delinquencies in Fayette County for 1957 are up slightly, following a trend established in 70 of 85 county tax settlements filed with State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Tax delinquencies in Ohio have started up again, after dropping from a peak of $196 million in 1956 to $30 million at the end of 1956.

Fayette County delinquencies, including real estate and public utilities taxes as well as special assessments, are listed as $11,519, up from $9,911 last year.

The breakdown of delinquent taxes here is: unpaid current 1957 real estate taxes, $6,445.19; county special for 1957 (for ditches, fence-building, etc.) $45.63; municipal special (sewers and street assessments current), $1,028.31; delinquent county special from previous years, $165.01; municipal special from previous years, $807.56; unpaid delinquent real estate taxes from previous years, $3,027.33.

OF THE LARGE counties reporting, Mahoning is the only one which did not report an increase. Its delinquencies amounted to $2,292,979 for 1957 as against $3,631,762 in 1956.

Others reporting a drop in delinquencies were Athens, Belmont, Columbiana, Hancock, Highland, Lake, Medina, Morgan, Noble, Perry, Ross, Scioto and Tuscarawas. Over the 20-year period, until the 1957 reports, the delinquencies dropped each year, excepting 1941.

CUYAHOCA County had $10,811,960 in delinquencies as against $10,753,504 in 1956.

Delinquencies reported by counties bordering Fayette were as follows (last year's figures in parentheses): Greene, $113,299 ($104,484); Madison, $32,654 ($28,586); Pickaway, $65,507 ($57,045); Ross, $83,741 ($118,291).

Singer's New Mate Seeks Adoption OK

HAMILTON (P)—A hearing resumed today in probate court here in an adoption suit centering on the two sons by a previous marriage of Ruby McGuire, one of the singing McGuire sisters.

Her present husband, John H. Tetter of New York, executive director of the Damon Runyon Fund, seeks to adopt the two boys, Harold, 15, and Asa, 11.

Tetter charged that the boys' father, Harold Ashcraft of Hamilton, has failed to contribute to support of the youths for two years, is now $2,900 in arrears.

Ashcraft and Miss McGuire were divorced in 1950 and he has since also remarried.

He Thinks Draft Board Has Gone A Little Too Far

OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—M. Sgt. Virgil D. Flynn, 55, a military man since 1921, thinks the Tacoma, Wash., selective service board has gone a little too far.

He received this week a postcard from the Tacoma board announcing he is available for order to active duty. This wasn't Flynn's first difficulty with a draft board.

In 1942, when he was with an Army Air Corps unit in Greenland, the sheriff called at his home in Omaha, Neb., to serve notice he was to appear before the local board for induction.

Flynn told the draft board then he was willing to leave Greenland but the Army couldn't see the trip as necessary.

He now is stationed with headquarters of the 33rd Air Defense Division in Oklahoma City.

Convalescing rapidly from a mild stroke suffered a week ago, Eisenhower has been handling a light work routine since last Wednesday. He has not been back to his desk yet, however, and he is still under doctors' orders to take it easy for several weeks.

He traveled to his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., Friday afternoon. It was announced Sunday he had decided to return to the White House rather than stay on for further convalescence.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said he had no word yet on whether the President will be able to sit in Tuesday at briefings of congressional leaders, or whether he will be able to attend the NATO conference in Paris, Dec. 16-18.

The first ship-to-shore radio telephone conversation took place in 1917 between the captain of the battleship New Hampshire, off Hampton Roads, Va., and the Secretary of the Navy in Washington.

Island Hit

HONOLULU (P)—Some 1,100 persons were evacuated from the low-lying coastal areas of Kauai today as gale winds of up to 90 miles an hour from hurricane Nina battered the northernmost of the Hawaiian islands.

Those evacuated, mostly fishermen and cane field workers living near mouths of swollen rivers, were moved to public schools.

Rampaging rivers flooded the towns of Hanalei and Hanalei but there was only slight damage and no casualties were reported. Heavy rains and strong winds continued to batter the island which is 85 miles northwest of Oahu, the site of Honolulu.

Adlai's Advisory

Conceding the end was coming "a little sooner than expected," Stevenson said Sunday night he has no plans to join the U.S. delegation to a Dec. 16-18 meeting of the heads of state of North Atlantic Treaty countries, at which closer Allied scientific and defensive collaboration will be sought.

The State Department announced that Stevenson will sit in on a White House meeting with Republican and Democratic congressional leaders Tuesday.

Mystery Lights Spotted in Area

Those mysterious lights are still showing up in the sky over this area.

The latest report was of three lights which appeared for little more than a minute, in the northeastern sky at 9 p. m. Saturday.

They were spotted after having passed the zenith, going from southeast to northwest, and about evenly spaced, with the dimmest of the three in the center.

These lights were moving rapidly, were definitely not lights of airplanes and resembled moving tars observers said.

They appeared to be satellites not too high in the heavens, and those who saw them could find no logical explanation — unless they were artificial satellites passing over central Ohio at terrific speed.

Ike Sitting In On Meeting Of Cabinet

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower returned to the nation's capital today from a week-end at his Gettysburg farm and got an OK from his doctor to sit in on an afternoon Cabinet meeting.

The President left his Pennsylvania country home after getting another excellent progress report from his doctor at the start of the second week of recovery from a slight stroke.

The White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said earlier this morning that Eisenhower arranged for an early lunch and a nap after returning to the White House. The Cabinet meeting was expected after the nap.

Convalescing rapidly from a mild stroke suffered a week ago, Eisenhower has been handling a light work routine since last Wednesday. He has not been back to his desk yet, however, and he is still under doctors' orders to take it easy for several weeks.

He traveled to his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., Friday afternoon. It was announced Sunday he had decided to return to the White House rather than stay on for further convalescence.

Dullness in Steel Industry To Continue into December

CLEVELAND (AP)—Buying of steel for December delivery is "hand to mouth" and the pace of specifying is likely to slow down as the holidays approach, the magazine Steel said today.

"As a result," the metalworking weekly added, "this month's volume will likely fall appreciably under that of November — and business that month certainly wasn't up to seasonal expectations."

The magazine said, however, that despite current dullness, steel producers are encouraged by a slight improvement in consumer interest in requirements for the first quarter of next year.

"Many users that have been ordering sparingly the last several months now appear to be more concerned about their early first quarter needs," Steel said.

The publication said that growing production of automobiles continues to spark hope of an early pickup in orders for steel, but added that "so far, the improvement in autos has not meant much." Latest reports, it said, show auto production running about 30 per cent better than it did a year ago.

Leading steelmakers, the magazine continued, expect a continuation of the current economic adjustment, but they think the consumption of finished steel in 1958 will hold close to the 1957 volume of about 85 million tons. They expect the ingot output to drop no more than five per cent below this year's estimated 114 million tons.

Reflecting continued sluggish demand, steelmaking operations last week dropped three points to 73.5 per cent of rated capacity for the slowest production pace since 1954, except for strike and holiday periods.

Prices of steelmaking scrap dropped again following a week of relative stability. Steel's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting steel declined 17 cents to $33 a gross ton. This was the lowest point since December, 1954. The composite on finished steel held at $146.03 a net ton.

Whole-Dollar Accounting Is Growing Trend

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Saving dollars by throwing pennies away is finding favor today with a growing number of economy minded business firms.

They call it whole-dollar accounting. It means eliminating the posting of pennies in a company's books by rounding out each figure to the nearest dollar. Over a period of time the results usually average out about the same as with traditional book keeping methods.

The Controllershship Foundation says pinching the pennies off brings savings up to 66 per cent in posting and 43 per cent in checking.

The foundation, research arm of the Controllershship Institute of America, says the commonly used formula rounds upward the amounts of 51 cents and over, and rounds downward amounts of 49 cents and less.

The foundation studied whole-dollar accounting by 13 firms to see how well averaging out works. It reports Bethlehem Steel's variance in 1955 was $2.66 for each one million dollars of billings.

Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. reports an average net variance of less than $5 a month on annual gross revenues of 107 million dollars.

The foundation says that the great volume of accounting statistical work occurs not in sales slips and billings but in the internal accounting and analysis operations. It finds Pan American World Airways saving more than 25 million key punch strokes a year by using whole-dollar accounting in the book keeping stage of its operations.

Few Candidates Still Delinquent On Expense Accounts

Prospective candidates for nomination to public offices at the May 6 primary election must file their petitions by 4 p. m. on Feb. 5, the Fayette County Board of Elections announced Monday.

To be nominated in May are candidates for County auditor, one county commissioner post, representative to the General Assembly, all state offices except auditor, a district representative to Congress a judge of the Second District Court of Appeals and state senator.

In addition, Fayette County Democrats will choose 45 Central Committee members (one from each precinct) and Republicans will name 15 Central Committee members at the May primary.

THE COUNTY auditor and county commissioner will be elected to four-year terms, representative and state senator to two-year terms and judge of the Court of Appeals to a six-year term.

Terms of County Auditor Harry R. Allen, Commissioner Cliff Hughes and Rep. Virgil Perrill expire this year.

Only announced candidates at this time are Fayette County Common Pleas Judge John P. Case, who will seek the appellate court post, and State Sen. Lowell Fess, Yellow Springs, who is seeking reelection.

The Board of Elections also pointed out that a few candidates have not yet filed expense accounts. These are required from both winners and losers, whether or not they actually had expenses.

Deadline for filing expense accounts is 4 p. m. Dec. 5.

Dullness in Steel Industry To Continue into December

CLEVELAND (AP)—Buying of steel for December delivery is "hand to mouth" and the pace of specifying is likely to slow down as the holidays approach, the magazine Steel said today.

"As a result," the metalworking weekly added, "this month's volume will likely fall appreciably under that of November — and business that month certainly wasn't up to seasonal expectations."

The magazine said, however, that despite current dullness, steel producers are encouraged by a slight improvement in consumer interest in requirements for the first quarter of next year.

"Many users that have been ordering sparingly the last several months now appear to be more concerned about their early first quarter needs," Steel said.

The publication said that growing production of automobiles continues to spark hope of an early pickup in orders for steel, but added that "so far, the improvement in autos has not meant much." Latest reports, it said, show auto production running about 30 per cent better than it did a year ago.

Leading steelmakers, the magazine continued, expect a continuation of the current economic adjustment, but they think the consumption of finished steel in 1958 will hold close to the 1957 volume of about 85 million tons. They expect the ingot output to drop no more than five per cent below this year's estimated 114 million tons.

Reflecting continued sluggish demand, steelmaking operations last week dropped three points to 73.5 per cent of rated capacity for the slowest production pace since 1954, except for strike and holiday periods.

Prices of steelmaking scrap dropped again following a week of relative stability. Steel's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting steel declined 17 cents to $33 a gross ton. This was the lowest point since December, 1954. The composite on finished steel held at $146.03 a net ton.

Whole-Dollar Accounting Is Growing Trend

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Saving dollars by throwing pennies away is finding favor today with a growing number of economy minded business firms.

They call it whole-dollar accounting. It means eliminating the posting of pennies in a company's books by rounding out each figure to the nearest dollar. Over a period of time the results usually average out about the same as with traditional book keeping methods.

The Controllorship Foundation says pinching the pennies off brings savings up to 66 per cent in posting and 43 per cent in checking.

The foundation, research arm of the Controllorship Institute of America, says the commonly used formula rounds upward the amounts of 51 cents and over and rounds downward amounts of 49 cents and less.

The foundation studied whole-dollar accounting by 13 firms to see how well averaging out works. It reports Bethlehem Steel's variance in 1955 was $2.66 for each one million dollars of billings.

Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. reports an average net variance of less than $5 a month on annual gross revenues of 107 million dollars.

The foundation says that the great volume of accounting statistical work occurs not in sales slips and billings but in the internal accounting and analysis operations. It finds Pan American World Airways saving more than 25 million key punch strokes a year by using whole-dollar accounting in the book keeping stage of its operations.

Syracuse Supply Co. cut in half the time used in posting general ledger accounts so that it now can handle a larger volume of business without increasing accounting personnel.

Dravo Corp. says it saves about three days of work each month in preparing reports.

F. & R. Lazarus, Columbus, Ohio, department store, records cash and charge account transactions in full on the cash registers, but at the end of each day figures are rounded to whole dollars for daily sales reports of each selling department. It reports several million digits a year eliminated from reports.

But from you the customer, you'll find any company using whole-dollar accounting in its book keeping wants the entire amount owed, right down to the last penny.

Training Our Young People For the Future

Every community, including our own, right now is being given a heavy dose of warnings and urgent recommendations, for insistence on schooling of young people especially those in schools and colleges, along scientific lines.

Whether it is this advice or whether it has been the recent indications that Russia gives evidence of going ahead of us in some parts of this field of training, the public is showing more concern and is doing more talking on the subject.

However, many point out, we need more technically trained people because we are showing in many ways that we are depending upon them if we are going to continue our progress in civilization.

Those who most earnestly are turning their attention to this subject say that it is not for themselves they speak, but for the future of their children and grandchildren; that if we are to live better than before, more people will be required to know more than before; that there must be more technically trained people.

Are the children of today likely to be prepared for the jobs and responsibilities of the future? It must be recognized that not only our own United States but many countries that heretofore have been lagging and even yet are "backward", are gradually moving toward greater industrialization.

The world will need more men of science—engineers, specialists of all kinds including metallurgists, chemists, laboratory technicians.

This does not mean that we need more scientists so we can "get ahead of Russia," or plan trips to the moon. It means people who will be needed to do the jobs of a peaceful, modern economy where we will continually produce more good things for more people.

What can most of us do about this? Those who are parents must do more to interest their sons—and daughters also—in scientific subjects.

We can suggest to school authorities that there be more emphasis on mathematics, on the sciences and the various kinds of engineering. We can encourage our children to become more interested in those things that they can expect in the years ahead.

As one prominent industrialist declared recently, "Every boy and girl need not go to college. High schools and junior colleges and trade schools can teach many young men and women the basic knowledge they will need to find jobs in industry. But more each year WILL go to college. And we who are beyond the years of formal schooling can—especially if we are parents or grandparents—encourage our young people, in as many ways as we can devise, to prepare for the success of their own future. We can urge, and assist, them to choose as their educational background the subjects which will best equip them to live in a scientific world."

Loneliness Painful in Big City

NEW YORK (AP)—This is a lonely town for people who are alone. You may think every town is lonely for people alone but this is the town I know.

Believe me, the bigger the town, the lonelier the lonely are. A man alone, the only human being on a desert, may feel lonely. But he will feel more lonely among eight million human beings, if he has nobody to talk to.

If you have nobody to talk to except a cactus plant and the cactus plant won't talk, you may feel sorry for yourself. But you don't take it personally. If you can find nobody to talk to among eight million human beings, you do take it personally. This is the worst kind of loneliness—painful, profound, abiding. I have made sort of a study of loneliness in this town—loneliness in the public parks, in the restaurants, and the case studies which follow have the single virtue of fact. They are real. No novelist dreamed them up. A reporter found them.

To the library at 42nd St.—that's the one with the lions in front—a man called Harold came almost every night, after work. He made a slight pretense of consulting technical journals but mostly Harold came to talk with the ladies at the information desk.

They came to know him as genteel, well-spoken, well-dressed, cultured and as a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Harold also was a hunchback.

He talked about his aunt and uncle in Boston. He lived alone in New York. Then one day he told the girls at the desk that his aunt had died. Then his uncle died, and Harold went up to look after their personal effects.

Two weeks later, the girls at the information desk read that Harold had died. It was one of those stories. He had jumped or fallen from his 12th floor apartment.

But the sharpest etching in loneliness you'll find in New York is at the automat, the coin cafeteria. Mostly people who come in to eat at an automat are in 20 or 25 minutes. The widows and the old maids take longer.

I have it on the word of one automat manager that, having nothing else to do, having sat in the park or caught a movie or watched the afternoon TV in their hotel room, they can't resist coming to the cafeteria for dinner as early as 5 p.m. then they try to stretch it to 9 or 10.

It's a Tough Job Being President

Those who have suffered any kind of a heart ailment know how frightening it is and also how that machine of life can repair itself.

But one must be careful not to bring on more calamities, to eat too much, to eat the wrong food, to walk against the wind, to climb stairs or mountains, to worry and get very excited.

The President's job is worrisome and no matter how a man feels himself against the fortunes of life, he cannot refuse to recognize when the course of events has gone against him. Ike has been a soldier, and the assumption has been that no matter how weak his knowledge of politics may have been, he knew soldiering. In fact, many citizens favored Ike because he was not a politician, as they had grown weary of the tricks and wiles of politics.

But the soldier they respected. Ike had been so successful in World War II, they felt: he would show those Russians a thing or two. Then came Sputnik and all of Khrushchev's theatrical threats and the statements of scientists and others that we had fallen five years behind the Russians, and the disclosures of disgraceful competition among the branches of the military although they were supposed to be unified.

It was enough to try a man's soul. The businessmen put Eisenhower into the presidency. They deserted Robert A. Taft and chose this general, who was a stranger to most of them, because they were certain that he could be elected and thus an end would be put to the Roosevelt-Truman regime which they had found so obnoxious.

They courted Eisenhower while he was president of Columbia University and when he was in Paris organizing NATO. They made pilgrimages to Paris in parties. In this exciting atmosphere, Gen. Eisenhower consented to run for President.

As President, Eisenhower made no pretenses at great knowledge and experience. He admitted that the problems of the job were new to him and that he had to learn civil administration and adjust to party politics. He organized the White House like an Army General staff, with the former governor of New Hampshire, Sherman Adams, as chief-of-staff. Nobody knew Sherman Adams too well or much about him and the old Republicans, the followers of Herbert Hoover, the followers of Robert A. Taft and the followers of Joe McCarthy distrusted not only Adams but most of the unusual faces that suddenly appeared in the White House and in Republican circles.

Thus, the party unity which both Eisenhower and Taft sought never developed during Eisenhower's first or second term. His staff despised the pre-1952 Republicans and they, in turn, gave the administration a tough time in Congress where they could be effective. The battle between the old and modern Republicans reached a climax in the White House fight on Sen. Joe McCarthy.

In this, the White House was successful not only in eliminating McCarthy from political life but also in breaking up the pre-1952 Republican groups. Modern Republicanism became the successor to the New Deal and Sherman Adams became the camel-driver to the prophet.

The cost of this achievement was not the destruction of the professional politician who limited himself to local affairs but the loss of the support of the businessmen who became increasingly fearful of the policies of the Eisenhower administration, such as the antitrust activities of the Department of Justice, the tight money policy of the Treasury, the continued waste and extravagance in government, the unwillingness to adopt the Hoover reports, the softness toward American Communists, the stimulation of racial strife, etc., etc.

By 1957, the businessmen were withholding their financial support from the Republican party. They were expressing their disapproval as loudly as Khrushchev was boasting of his enormous successes. The public relations machine that brought Eisenhower into the White House was no longer available for the causes he sponsored and the ideas he inspired.

The pressure upon him must have been enormous, too great for one whose heart as already been weakened by a thrombosis. The task continues to be too great to bear today when he is a sick man. It is a tough job to be President in a society in which men are free to disagree and to express their disagreements.

British railways are not yet completely electrified—151 steam locomotives have been ordered for the coming year.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MUCH QUOTED story in New York's busy garment district of late concerns the middle-aged manufacturer who confided to a crony at luncheon, "I had the funniest dream last night. I dreamed that I awoke suddenly, dressed without waking my wife, and went down to Coney Island, where I took ride after ride on the roller coaster."

"I had a dream, too," recalled the crony, "and what a dream it was! First, a gorgeous girl walked in and threw her arms around me, and right behind her was another who followed suit. Now what could I do with both those beauties at the same time?"

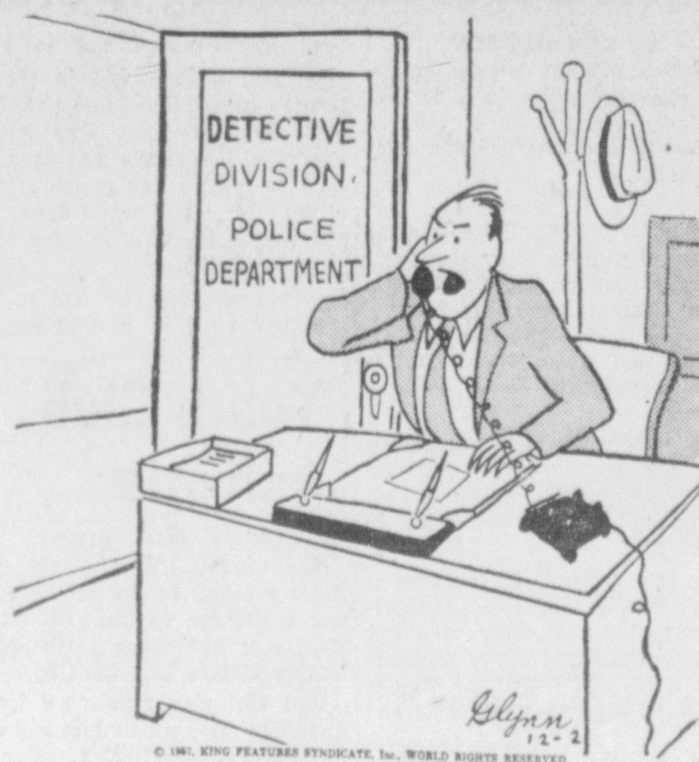

The first manufacturer was deeply hurt. "A fine friend," he said reproachfully. "With such dolls there, why didn't you call me up?"

"I did! I did!" his friend assured him hastily. "But your wife said you were at Coney Island."

Note this fool-proof suggestion for insuring a successful vacation: "Take half the clothes you figured on—and twice the money."

Diet and Health Cure Now Possible For Cancer of Skin

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

The most common form of cancer, skin cancer, is the most likely to be cured, provided, of course, that proper treatment is begun promptly. So for your own good, it's important to be alert for any change in the size or color of a mole or of a melanotic freckle.

Most of us have moles which are entirely harmless. But sometimes a lesion called seborrheic keratosis is mistaken for a benign mole. Such a lesion is often pigmented and slightly raised. It usually appears on the face.

As a rule, these lesions should be removed promptly by a surgeon.

A mole also requires prompt removal if it shows any change in color or size, if it is exposed to constant irritation, or if it becomes ulcerated or begins bleeding. If it is located under a nail, it should also be removed.

Any black or brown mole which appears during adult life should be excised promptly.

The melanotic freckle in the precancerous stage often appears first as a dark brown seborrheic spot. Occasionally, it will be black when it is first noticed.

At first, it may be as small as a pinhead. Later it may reach the size of a pea or cherry. It will probably become ulcerous and bleed easily.

I'm sure your doctor would recommend surgical removal of such freckles.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

L. A.: Lately my husband has been drinking to excess. He seems to be taken by a strange urge and craving for liquor. After these drinking sprees, he is always very sorry and depressed. Can you help me?

Answer: It is likely he is suffering from dipsomania. He is probably emotionally unstable and thus given to sudden desires for alcohol.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nothing happened this time. Nobody took President Eisenhower's powers away from him. Atty. Gen. Rogers said no one had to. But the fact Rogers got into the picture at all revives an old dispute.

Vice President Nixon, after Eisenhower's mild stroke last week, told Newsweek Rogers had informed him and other Cabinet members that no delegation of powers to anyone else was necessary.

Rogers, asked how he came to give such an opinion, said he was requested to do so by the White House staff. He said he stated his views after a "full discussion" with Eisenhower's doctors.

The doctors had reported the President's slight stroke — they avoided use of the word "stroke" — was apparently "mild and transitory" and that his reading, writing and reasoning were not affected.

But asking Rogers at all for his opinion — even though he is the highest legal officer in the government — raises a critical constitutional question about the future.

If at some other time Eisenhower suffers an illness that makes his ability to carry out his duties questionable, who decides that he can or can't do his job? The attorney general?

There's nothing in the Constitution which says the attorney general has or has not such power. The Constitution is vague on this whole question.

All the Constitution says is that if the President can't perform his duties, the vice president steps in. But there never has been agreement on these questions which spring from the vagueness:

When and how and by whom is the decision made that a president should step in? And, if the vice president does step in, is it temporary or permanent?

Does he step back into the vice presidency if the President recovers? And who decides that a president has recovered? Or is a president automatically out of office once his vice president takes over his duties?

And further: Suppose a president knows he's too disabled to do his job but refuses to let the vice president carry out his duties? Or suppose he's disabled and unconscious. Who decides then?

Eisenhower himself sought to clear up this constitutional mess earlier this year by asking — through his then Atty. Gen. Brownell — an amendment to carry out two basic proposals he made.

But there was nothing in his proposals that mentioned the attorney general or gave him any power of decision on presidential disability. This is what Eisenhower suggested:

1. A disabled president can instruct his vice president to take over his duties — but it must be in writing — until he recovers. Then he will resume his duties.

2. When a president is disabled but unwilling to say so or is unable to say so, the vice president can take over until he recovers but only if a majority of the department heads in the Cabinet agree to it in writing.

In either case, when a president thinks he's back to normal and can do his job, he can say so and do so. That raises a neat new question: Suppose he's the only one who thinks he's back to normal. What happens then?

If a president is clearly unable to do his job but won't step aside, he can be impeached. But his disability would have to be indisputable to avoid a national crisis.

If you can find nobody to talk to among eight million human beings, you do take it personally. This is the worst kind of loneliness—painful, profound, abiding. I have made sort of a study of loneliness in this town—loneliness in the public parks, in the restaurants, and the case studies which follow have the single virtue of fact. They are real. No novelist dreamed them up. A reporter found them.

To the library at 42nd St.—that's the one with the lions in front—a man called Harold came almost every night, after work. He made a slight pretense of consulting technical journals but mostly Harold came to talk with the ladies at the information desk.

They came to know him as genteel, well-spoken, well-dressed, cultured and as a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Harold also was a hunchback.

He talked about his aunt and uncle in Boston. He lived alone in New York. Then one day he told the girls at the desk that his aunt had died. Then his uncle died, and Harold went up to look after their personal effects.

Two weeks later, the girls at the information desk read that Harold had died. It was one of those stories. He had jumped or fallen from his 12th floor apartment.

But the sharpest etching in loneliness you'll find in New York is at the automat, the coin cafeterias. Mostly people who come in to eat at an automat are out in 20 or 25 minutes. The widows and the old maids take longer.

I have it on the word of one automat manager that, having nothing else to do, having sat in the park or caught a movie or watched the afternoon TV in their hotel room, they can't resist coming to the cafeteria for dinner as early as 5 p.m. then they try to stretch it to 9 or 10.

It's a Tough Job Being President

Those who have suffered any kind of a heart ailment know how frightening it is and also how that machine of life can repair itself.

But one must be careful not to bring on more calamities, to eat too much, to eat the wrong food, to walk against the wind, to climb stairs or mountains, to worry and get very excited.

The President's job is worrisome and no matter how a man feels himself against the fortunes of life, he cannot refuse to recognize when the course of events has gone against him.

Ike has been a soldier, and the assumption has been that no matter how weak his knowledge of politics may have been, he knew soldiering. In fact, many citizens favored Ike because he was not a politician, as they had grown weary of the tricks and wiles of politics.

But the soldier they respected. Ike had been so successful in World War II, they felt: he would show those Russians a thing or two. Then came Sputnik and all of Khrushchev's theatrical threats and the statements of scientists and others that we had fallen five years behind the Russians, and the disclosures of disgraceful competition among the branches of the military although they were supposed to be unified.

It was enough to try a man's soul. The businessmen put Eisenhower into the presidency. They deserted Robert A. Taft and chose this general, who was a stranger to most of them, because they were certain that he could be elected and thus an end would be put to the Roosevelt-Truman regime which they had found so obnoxious.

They courted Eisenhower while he was president of Columbia University and when he was in Paris organizing NATO. They made pilgrimages to Paris in parties. In this exciting atmosphere, Gen. Eisenhower consented to run for President.

As President, Eisenhower made no pretenses at great knowledge and experience. He admitted that the problems of the job were new to him and that he had to learn civil administration and adjust to party politics. He organized the White House like an Army General staff, with the former governor of New Hampshire, Sherman Adams, as chief of staff.

Nobody knew Sherman Adams too well or much about him and the old Republicans, the followers of Herbert Hoover, the followers of Robert A. Taft and the followers of Joe McCarthy distrusted not only Adams but most of the unusual faces that suddenly appeared in the White House and in Republican circles.

Thus, the party unity which both Eisenhower and Taft sought never developed during Eisenhower's first or second term.

His staff despised the pre-1952 Republicans and they, in turn, gave the administration a tough time in Congress where they could be effective. The battle between the old and modern Republicans reached a climax in the White House fight on Sen. Joe McCarthy.

In this, the White House was successful not only in eliminating McCarthy from political life but also in breaking up the pre-1952 Republican groups. Modern Republicanism became the successor to the New Deal and Sherman Adams became the camel-driver to the prophet.

The cost of this achievement was not the destruction of the professional politician who limited himself to local affairs but the loss of the support of the businessmen who became increasingly fearful of the policies of the Eisenhower administration, such as the antitrust activities of the Department of Justice, the tight money policy of the Treasury, the continued waste and extravagance in government, the unwillingness to adopt the Hoover reports, the softness toward American Communists, the stimulation of racial strife, etc., etc.

By 1957, the businessmen were withholding their financial support from the Republican party. They were expressing their disappointment as loudly as Khrushchev was boasting of his enormous successes.

The public relations machine that brought Eisenhower into the White House was no longer available for the causes he sponsored and the ideas he inspired.

The pressure upon him must have been enormous, too great for one whose heart as already been weakened by a thrombosis.

The task continues to be too great to bear today when he is a sick man. It is a tough job to be President in a society in which men are free to disagree and to express their disagreements.

British railways are not yet completely electrified—151 steam locomotives have been ordered for the coming year.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MUCH QUOTED story in New York's busy garment district of late concerns the middle-aged manufacturer who confided to a crony at luncheon, "I had the funniest dream last night. I dreamed that I awoke suddenly, dressed without waking my wife, and went down to Coney Island, where I took ride after ride on the roller coaster."

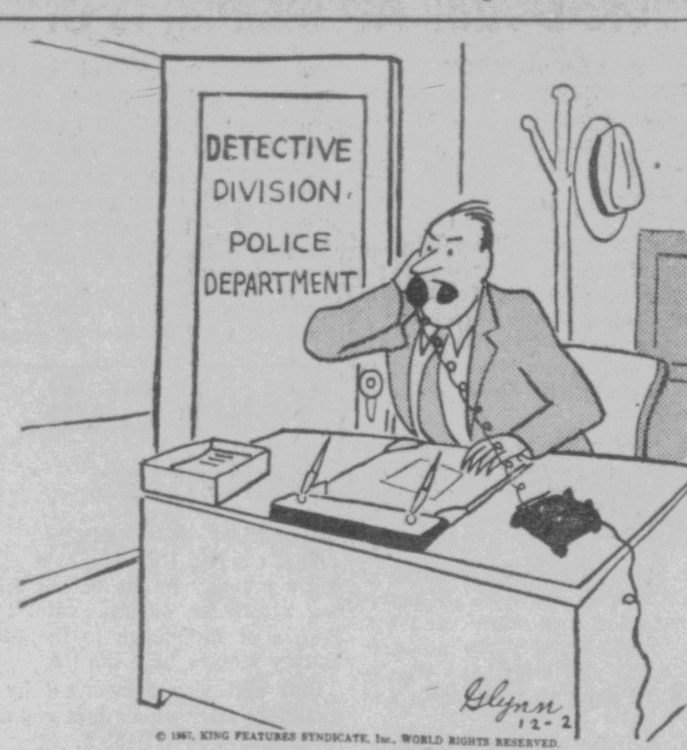

"I had a dream, too," recalled the crony, "and what a dream it was! First, a gorgeous girl walked in and threw her arms around me, and right behind her was another who followed suit. Now what could I do with both those beauts at the same time?"

The first manufacturer was deeply hurt. "A fine friend," he said reproachfully. "With such dolls there, why didn't you call me up?" "I did! I did!" his friend assured him hastily. "But your wife said you were at Coney Island."

Note this fool-proof suggestion for insuring a successful vacation: "Take half the clothes you figured on—and twice the money."

Cure Now Possible For Cancer of Skin

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

The most common form of cancer, skin cancer, is the most likely to be cured, provided, of course, that proper treatment is begun promptly. So for your own good, it's important to be alert for any change in the size or color of a mole or of a melanotic freckle.

Most of us have moles which are entirely harmless. But sometimes a lesion called seborrheic keratosis is mistaken for a benign mole. Such a lesion is often pigmented and slightly raised. It usually appears on the face.

As a rule, these lesions should be removed promptly by a surgeon.

A mole also requires prompt removal if it shows any change in color or size, if it is exposed to constant irritation, or if it becomes ulcerated or begins bleeding. If it is located under a nail, it should also be removed.

Any black or brown mole which appears during adult life should be excised promptly.

The melanotic freckle in the precancerous stage often appears first as a dark brown sebor spot. Occasionally, it will be black when it is first noticed.

At first, it may be as small as a pinhead. Later it may reach the size of a palm.

The first change usually is a thickening of one portion of the lesion with the papule growing to the size of a pea or cherry. It will probably become ulcerous and bleed easily.

I'm sure your doctor would recommend surgical removal of such freckles.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

L. A.: Lately my husband has been drinking to excess. He seems to be taken by a strange urge and craving for liquor. After these drinking sprees, he is always very sorry and depressed. Can you help me?

Answer: It is likely he is suffering from dipsomania. He is probably emotionally unstable and thus given to sudden desires for alcohol.

OSU Chemistry Building Destroyed by Blaze

COLUMBUS (AP)—A two-alarm fire Sunday destroyed much of the one-floor chemistry building at Ohio State University.

An undetermined amount of damage was done to the building and the $100,000 worth of equipment in it.

Firemen, who battled the blaze for four hours, were checked following the fire because radioactive material was in the building. No one was found to be affected.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nothing happened this time. Nobody took President Eisenhower's powers away from him. Atty. Gen. Rogers said no one had to. But the fact Rogers got into the picture at all revives an old dispute.

Vice President Nixon, after Eisenhower's mild stroke last week, told Newsweek Rogers had informed him and other Cabinet members that no delegation of powers to anyone else was necessary.

Rogers, asked how he came to give such an opinion, said he was requested to do so by the White House staff. He said he stated his views after a "full discussion" with Eisenhower's doctors.

The doctors had reported the President's slight stroke — they avoided use of the word stroke — was apparently "mild and transitory" and that his reading, writing and reasoning were not affected.

But asking Rogers at all for his opinion — even though he is the highest legal officer in the government — raises a critical constitutional question about the future:

If at some other time Eisenhower suffers an illness that makes his ability to carry out his duties questionable, who decides that he can or can't do his job? The attorney general?

There's nothing in the Constitution which says the attorney general has or has not such power. The Constitution is vague on this whole question.

All the Constitution says is that if the President can't perform his duties, the vice president step in. But there never has been agreement on these questions which spring from the vagueness:

When and how and by whom is the decision made that a president should step in? And, if the vice president does step in, is it temporary or permanent?

Does he step back into the vice presidency if the President recovers? And who decides that a president has recovered? Or is a president automatically out of office once his vice president takes over his duties?

And further: Suppose a president knows he's too disabled to do his job but refuses to let the vice president carry out his duties? Or suppose he's disabled and unconscious. Who decides then?

Eisenhower himself sought to clear up this constitutional mess earlier this year by asking — through his then Atty. Gen. Brownell — an amendment to carry out two basic proposals he made.

But there was nothing in his proposals that mentioned the attorney general or gave him any power of decision on presidential disability. This is what Eisenhower suggested:

1. A disabled president can instruct his vice president to take over his duties — but it must be in writing — until he recovers. Then he will resume his duties.

2. When a president is disabled but unwilling to say so or is unable to say so, the vice president can take over until he recovers but only if a majority of the department heads in the Cabinet agree to it in writing.

In either case, when a president thinks he's back to normal and can do his job, he can say so and do so. That raises a neat new question: Suppose he's the only one who thinks he's back to normal. What happens then?

If a president is clearly unable to do his job but won't step aside, he can be impeached. But his disability would have to be indisputable to avoid a national crisis.

Professional cleaning does two things which even the most careful housewife can't do --- it carries away the deeply imbedded grit which cuts pile fibres and shortens rug-life by years. Then it gently scrubs and rinses out grease and grime which deaden the sparkling color your rugs once had.

Browns, Colts Appear To Be Grid Finalists

Title Encounter Due Dec. 29; Cleveland Humbles Cardinals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Cleveland Browns, winners of three of the last seven National Football League championships, and Baltimore, which has not even won a conference crown, are moving toward a Dec. 29 title encounter.

The path, however, appears much smoother for the Browns.

With only two weeks of the regular season remaining, Cleveland can win the Eastern Conference title with a tie or victory in either of its games with Detroit or New York. The Browns meet the Lions next Sunday and the Giants a week later.

The Colts, with a one-game lead in the Western Conference, will be on the road for their remaining two—against San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Both leaders had little trouble moving ahead Sunday. Cleveland crushed the Chicago Cardinals 31-0 and Baltimore defeated Los Angeles 31-14. San Francisco tied idle Detroit for second place in the Eastern Conference by surprising the Giants 27-17.

In games of lesser importance, the Washington Redskins beat the Chicago Bears 14-5 and the Philadelphia Eagles downed the Pittsburgh Steelers 7-6.

The Browns got another standout performance from Tommy O'Connell, the circuit's leading passer. He threw 65 and 23-yard scoring passes to Ray Renfro and set up Lou Groza's 13th field goal of the season with a 40-yarder to Darrell Brewster.

O'Connell was carried from the field with a twisted ankle midway through the third period.

Long-legged Lenny Moore got away for three touchdowns for Baltimore. The Colts snapped a 14-14 tie in the third quarter on Steve Myrha's 36-yard field goal.

Rampaging San Francisco was helped by five Giant fumbles in the first half. Gene Babb, Joe Perry and Billy Wilson scored the 48th touchdowns and Gordy Soltau kicked field goals of 13 and 27 yards.

Coach Paul Brown's rebuilt protégés set the stage for the big comeback Sunday as they outclassed the Chicago Cardinals 31-0 for their eighth conquest against a loss and a tie. The Giants are second with a 7-3-0 mark.

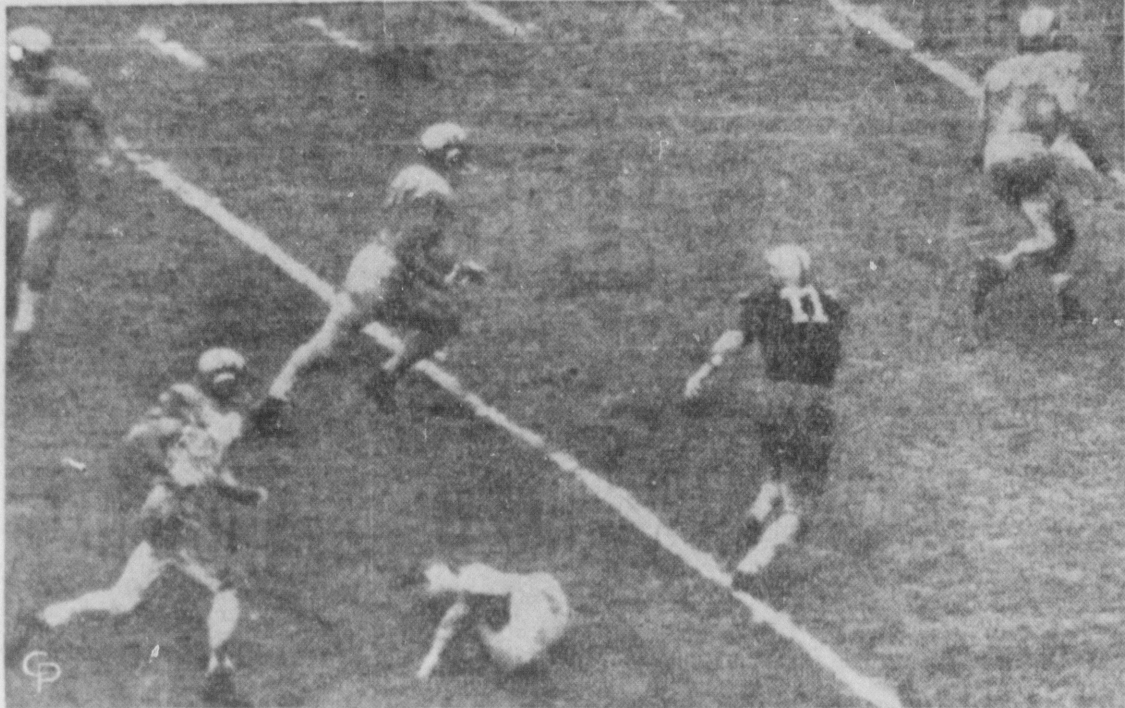

With Detroit (6-4-0) and the Giants still to be met on the road, a tie or a victory will give it all to the Browns. With a wad of extra cash for each player hanging on the playoff berth, the chances are pretty good the Browns will get the win or the deadlock.

The Cardinals, in absorbing their seventh loss against two wins, were no match for the fired-up Browns. Lamar McHan, fourth best passer in the league, completed only one of 12 passes for nine yards, and had one intercepted—which led to the first Cleveland score.

But the Browns' Tommy O'Connell, No. 1 in the loop, connected for five of 12 tosses for a huge 177-yard total and two touchdowns—on 65 and 23-yard tosses to speedy Ray Renfro—before being taken out with a wrenched ankle in the third session.

O'Connell went into the game with a sore shoulder, and with his added injury it was problematical whether he'd be ready for next Sunday's game at Detroit. Milt Plum, the Penn State rookie who took over for O'Connell in Sunday's late going, probably will get the starting call against the Lions. Last week, after O'Connell was hurt, Plum led the Browns to five touchdowns against the Los Angeles Rams—and in Sunday's fray he appeared as relaxed as a pound of liver.

Lou Groza, finest place-kicker the game has ever known, took over the league scoring leadership as he booted four conversions and

NAVY SUBDUES ARMY: 14-TO-0 -- Navy's Ned Oldham runs 55 yards for the Middles' second touchdown after taking Army's fourth-down kick in the third quarter of the traditional inter-service crusade. Oldham, scoring both touchdowns, led the Tars to a 14-to-0 victory over Army before a crowd of 100,000 fans who huddled in the cold rain which fell steadily throughout the game. The victory secured for Navy the Lambert Trophy, symbolic of Eastern football superiority, and a New Year's day Cotton Bowl bid. Navy will meet Rice.

Gene Slaughter of Warren Voted as Top Ohio Coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U-P) — In the closest finish in the history of The Associated Press poll, Gene Slaughter of Warren's Panthers to-day was named Ohio's high school coach of the year. He succeeds Wade Watts of Canton McKinley, winner the last two years.

Slaughter picked up the remnants of a team which had won five of 10 games a year ago and manufactured a powerhouse which grabbed nine of 10 contests in his first year at the Panther helm.

The lone loss was by six points to Massillon, in which the Tigers scored the winning points in the last four seconds of an extra fourth-period minute allowed by a defective clock.

The new head man of the scholastic coaching fraternity is a graduate of Capital University in Columbus. He's 31 years old, and prepped for the big job at Warren by coaching two years at South Point and five at Jackson, a 25-yard placekick, boosting his 1957 total to 66 points. For the season "The Toe" has kicked 27 of 27 extra points and 13 of 19 field goal attempts. Groza has a four-point streak over his nearest foe, George Blanda of the Chicago Bears.

Jim Brown, the rookie All-America fullback from Syracuse, clung to his rushing leadership as he picked up 57 yards in 10 tries for the Browns. The big fellow now has ground out 827 yards in 171 tries, about the best a rookie has ever done, but not quite with in shooting distance of the league record of 1,146 yards in 263 tries set by Philadelphia's Steve Van Duren in 1949.

O'Connell, in addition to the two touchdowns heaves to Renfro, who was wide open each time, hit the speedster with a 21-yarder to set up the opening score; smacked end Darrell Brewster with a 35-yarder to get Groza into position for his field goal, and connected with Brewster for 33 yards before Renfro's 23-yard scoring play.

Several of his other throws were dropped — Renfro fumbling one which could have gone for 76 yards and a score had he held on.

With several hundred coaches, sports writers, sportscasters and officials voting, Slaughter nosed out Fremont Ross' Mal Mackey by only two ballots. Mackey, who suffered a heart attack last year and turned the Little Giants over to his assistants, came back this season to post his third straight unbeaten campaign.

Augie Bossu of Cleveland Benedictine's unbeaten Bengals was third, and Lou Juillerat of Troy, who has a 27-game winning streak in the works, was fourth.

Others high on the list included Hilton Murphy of unbeaten Toledo Devilbiss, Ben Wilson of undefeated Mt. Vernon, Lou Florio of Hamilton, Lee Tressell of Massillon, Tom Ballaban of Cincinnati St. Xavier, Larry Peterson of Lancaster, and Gil Smith, whose Van Wert Cougars haven't lost a game since 1954.

In a "sentiment-finding" vote which has no bearing on the final selections, The Associated Press voters tossed Mackey and Slaughter into a deadlock as choices to coach the Northern All-Stars in next August's North-South game at Canton. Juillerat was the runaway choice for the "Rebel" berth, with Wilson of Mt. Vernon second.

The Ohio High School Football Coaches Assn. will select the North and South all-star coaches, with only members of the group having a vote.

Back of Mackey and Slaughter in the northern race were Bossu, Murphy, Tressell, Leo Strang of East Cleveland Shaw, and Joe Knapic of Campbell Memorial. No others were mentioned.

In the south the closest to Juillerat and Wilson were Peterson of Lancaster, Jim McCarthy of Cincinnati Purcell, Florio of Hamilton, Smith of Van Wert, Howard Baughman of Portsmouth, Jim Vennari of Rutland, and Dick Pfleger of Gahanna Lincoln.

In other voting Bobby Ferguson of Troy, who has gained 5,521 yards and scored 578 points in four years, was named the state's best offensive back. Middletown's 220-pound 6-4 quarterback, Jack Wallace, was voted the best defensive back.

Offensive lineman laurels went to 245-pound 6-2 Ron Skufca, Cleveland Benedictine tackle. The defensive lineman vote wound up in a tie between Dayton Fairmont's Charley Foreman, stalwart on a team which gave up only 28 points, and Larry Longanbach of Fremont Ross.

Others high in the voting were: Offensive back: Ivory Benjamin of Massillon, Larry Baughman of Lancaster, Dan Kwiatkowski of Toledo Devilbiss, George Sefcik of Cleveland Benedictine, and John Mummy of Painesville Harvey.

Defensive back: George Hale of East Liverpool, and Merv Spencer of Youngstown South, both of whom also picked up many offensive votes.

Offensive lineman: Ron Weldy of Piqua, Wayne Farmer of Steubenville, Bob McCloud of Toledo Devilbiss, and Jack Pietela of Warren Harding.

Defensive lineman: Owensby Pearson of Akron South, Don Anderson of Lancaster, and Ken Knapp of Hamilton.

CHICAGO (U-P) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown, a 3-1 favorite to defeat challenger Joey Lopes in their title bout at Chicago Stadium Wednesday night, will end his workouts today.

Brown, making the third defense of the title he won from Bud Smith more than a year ago, will spar for two rounds today before calling it quits.

Trainer Bill Gore says the 31-year-old champion is down to the 135-pound weight limit and will be in tip-top shape for the fight which will be nationally televised at 10 p. m. EST.

All Six Area Teams To Play This Week

Basketball games are coming up Tuesday night for two of the six high school teams in this area, but neither of them will be on home floors.

The Lions of Washington C. H. High School, who lost their season's opener, 53-48, to Bexley's Lions here last Friday night, are going to Westerville and New Holland's Bulldogs, with a 4-1 record, will be playing at Madison South.

However, all six of them will be in action before the end of the week.

Wayne's Mad Anthony's (1-5) will play the Bulldogs (4-2) at Bloomington Friday night in the season's first Fayette County League game.

That same night, the Lions of WHS will play their first South-central Ohio (SCO) League game with the Hurricane at Wilmington and New Holland's Bulldogs will play their third Pickaway County League game at Monroe.

On Saturday night, Madison Mills Warriors will meet the Jeffersonville Tigers on the Bloomington floor, although this is a "home game" for the Tigers. This will be the first Fayette County League game for both teams.

New Yorkers Keep Table Tennis Toga

COLUMBUS (U-P) — The national team table tennis championship belongs to New York State again. They have won the crown every year except two since the tournament began in 1936.

A two-day tourney here wound up Sunday with the New York team having a perfect 7-0 record, followed by Illinois, 6-1; Washington, D. C., 5-2; Ohio, 4-3; Michigan, 3-4; Canada, 2-5; New Jersey, 1-6; and Indiana, 0-7.

Each team played a best-of-nine series with each of the other seven.

College Cage Outfits Open Play Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The collegians start big time basketball today. Six of last season's top 10 teams open their schedules.

Wilt Chamberlain, the seven-footer who was a sophomore All America for Kansas, will lead last season's No. 2 team against newly independent Oklahoma State.

Other games involving last season's ranked:

Kentucky (No. 3) meets Duke; Southern Methodist (No. 4) plays Minnesota; Louisville (No. 6), opens at Evansville; Vanderbilt (No. 8) is at Sewanee; and Oklahoma City (No. 9) opposes Houston.

Also testing their strength will be several schools anxious to move into the top 10. They include Rice against New Mexico A&M; Michigan State against Butler; Indiana against Ohio U.; Temple against Delaware; and LaSalle against Millersville.

Coach Dick Harp's Kansas Jayhawks (24-3 last season) will be minus four 1956-57 starters. Chamberlain, who averaged 29.6 points per game, will be called on to handle a greater burden.

Wilt won't be the biggest man on a court tonight. Gonzaga University is debuting its French phenom, freshman Jean Claude (Feets) Lefebvre, a 7-3 1/2 example of reverse lend-lease from a farm near Paris. Lefebvre and colleagues will oppose Idaho.

St. Louis Keglers Retain U. S. Title

ST. LOUIS (U-P) — The National Team Match Game Bowling Championship remains in St. Louis for the third straight year.

The newly organized Falstaffs took the Chicago Reserves 24,991 to 23,941. The St. Louis team was outrolled at Chicago in the first 12 games of the series but rallied strongly here, wiping out a 522 pin deficit Saturday and mopping up Sunday in the final six games.

Billy Welu and Harry Smith were the big guns for St. Louis with Welu rolling 5,119, the top individual score.

Bucks Start Prep For Rose Bowl Tilt

COLUMBUS (U-P) — Ohio State's

Buckeyes, Big Ten football champions, started today on their first of 16 allotted practices for the Rose Bowl game with Oregon.

Coach Woody Hayes said, he didn't think last week's layoff had any adverse conditioning effect on his players.

"We'll go back to work on fundamentals Monday," said Hayes, "and work pretty hard."

Today's practice will be held indoors if extremely cold weather continues. Hayes said he wants his Bucks to drill as nearly as possible in temperatures comparable to those they will encounter at Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 1, the day of the "run for the roses."

Cincy Royals Shine Bright In Pro Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Royals, who transferred their National Basketball Assn. operations from Rochester to Cincinnati, are giving their new fans something to shout about.

With big Clyde Lovellette in the starring role, the Royals have climbed to within 1 1/2 games of the Western Division leading St. Louis Hawks.

Sunday night, Lovellette came up with a 13-point outburst in the last six minutes that helped hoist Cincinnati to a 90-89 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers.

In other games, the Syracuse Nationals handed the Boston Celtics their second setback, 118-109 and the New York Knickerbockers overcame Detroit 109-102.

Syracuse had an easy time of it against Boston, which was without the services of Bob Cousy. Jim Loscutt and Arnie Risen. Dolph Schayes led the winners with 37 points while Bill Russell paced the losers with 27.

George Yardley collected 30 points for Detroit. But the Pistons were unable to stay with the Knickerbockers, who took command with 10 straight points early in the third quarter. Willie Naulls topped New York with 25 points.

Browns, Colts Appear To Be Grid Finalists

Title Encounter Due Dec. 29; Cleveland Humbles Cardinals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Cleveland Browns, winners of three of the last seven National Football League championships, and Baltimore, which has not even won a conference crown, are moving toward a Dec. 29 title encounter.

The path, however, appears much smoother for the Browns. With only two weeks of the regular season remaining, Cleveland can win the Eastern Conference title with a tie or victory in either of its games with Detroit or New York. The Browns meet the Lions next Sunday and the Giants a week later.

The Colts, with a one-game lead in the Western Conference, will be on the road for their remaining two—against San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Both leaders had little trouble moving ahead Sunday. Cleveland crushed the Chicago Cardinals 31-0 and Baltimore defeated Los Angeles 31-14. San Francisco tied idle Detroit for second place in the Eastern Conference by surprising the Giants 27-17.

In games of lesser importance, the Washington Redskins beat the Chicago Bears 14-3 and the Philadelphia Eagles downed the Pittsburgh Steelers 7-6.

The Browns got another stand-out performance from Tommy O'Connell, the circuit's leading passer. He threw 65 and 23-yard scoring passes to Ray Renfro and set up Lou Groza's 13th field goal of the season with a 40-yarder to Darrel Brewster.

O'Connell was carried from the field with a twisted ankle midway through the third period.

Long-legged Lenny Moore got away for three touchdowns for Baltimore. The Colts snapped a 14-14 tie in the third quarter on Steve Myrha's 36-yard field goal. Rampaging San Francisco was helped by five giant fumbles in the first half. Gene Babb, Joe Perry and Billy Wilson scored the 49er touchdowns and Gordy Soltau kicked field goals of 13 and 37 yards.

Coach Paul Brown's rebuilt pegs set the stage for the big comeback Sunday as they outclassed the Chicago Cardinals 31-0 for their eighth conquest against a loss and a tie. The Giants are second with a 7-3-0 mark.

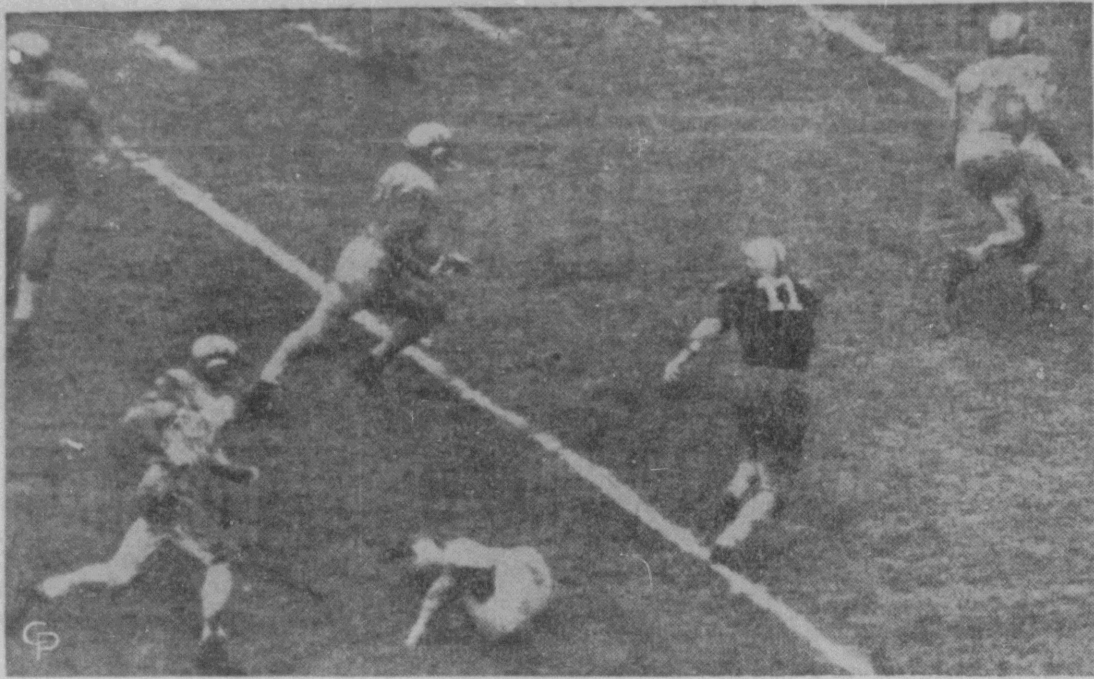

With Detroit (6-4-0) and the Giants still to be met on the road, a tie or a victory will give it all to the Browns. With a wad of extra cash for each player hanging on the playoff berth, the chances are pretty good the Browns will get the win or the deadlock.

The Cardinals, in absorbing their seventh loss against two wins, were no match for the fired up Browns. Lamar McHan, fourth best passer in the league, completed only one of 12 passes for nine yards, and had one intercepted—which led to the first Cleveland score.

But the Browns' Tommy O'Connell, No. 1 in the loop, connected for five of 12 tosses for a huge 177-yard total and two touchdowns—on 65' and 23-yard tosses to speedy Ray Renfro—before being taken out with a wrenched ankle in the third session.

O'Connell went into the game with a sore shoulder, and with his added injury it was problematical whether he'd be ready for next Sunday's game at Detroit. Milt Plum, the Penn State rookie who took over for O'Connell in Sunday's late going, probably will get the starting call against the Lions. Last week, after O'Connell was hurt, Plum led the Browns to five touchdowns against the Los Angeles Rams—and in Sunday's fray he appeared as relaxed as a pound of liver.

Lou Groza, finest place-kicker the game has ever known, took over the league scoring leadership as he booted four conversions and

NAVY SUBDUES ARMY: 14-TO-0 -- Navy's Ned Oldham runs 55 yards for the Middles' second touchdown after taking Army's fourth-down kick in the third quarter of the traditional inter-service crusade. Oldham, scoring both touchdowns, led the Tars to a 14-to-0 victory over Army before a crowd of 100,000 fans who huddled in the cold rain which fell steadily throughout the game. The victory secured for Navy the Lambert Trophy, symbolic of Eastern football superiority, and a New Year's day Cotton Bowl bid. Navy will meet Rice.

Gene Slaughter of Warren Voted as Top Ohio Coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In the closest finish in the history of The Associated Press poll, Gene Slaughter of Warren's Panthers today was named Ohio's high school coach of the year. He succeeds Wade Watts of Canton McKinley, winner the last two years.

Slaughter picked up the remnants of a team which had won five of 10 games a year ago and manufactured a powerhouse which grabbed nine of 10 contests in his first year at the Panther helm.

The lone loss was by six points to Massillon, in which the Tigers scored the winning points in the last four seconds of an extra fourth-period minute allowed by a defective clock.

The new head man of the scholastic coaching fraternity is a graduate of Capital University in Columbus. He's 31 years old, and prepped for the big job at Warren by coaching two years at South Point and five at Jackson, a 25-yard placekick, boosting his 1957 total to 66 points. For the season "The Toe" has kicked 27 of 27 extra points and 13 of 19 field goal attempts. Groza has a four-point spread over his nearest foe, George Blanda of the Chicago Bears.

Jim Brown, the rookie All-America fullback from Syracuse, clung to his rushing leadership as he picked up 57 yards in 10 tries for the Browns. The big fellow now has ground out 827 yards in 171 tries, about the best a rookie has ever done, but not quite withstanding distance of the league record of 1,146 yards in 263 tries set by Philadelphia's Steve Van Buren in 1949.

O'Connell, in addition to the two touchdowns heaves to Renfro, who was wide open each time, hit the speedster with a 21-yarder to set up the opening score; smacked end Darrell Brewster with a 35-yarder to get Groza into position for his field goal, and connected with Brewster for 33 yards before Renfro's 23-yard scoring play.

Several of his other throws were dropped—Renfro fumbling one which could have gone for 76 yards and a score had he held on.

With several hundred coaches, sports writers, sportscasters and officials voting, Slaughter nosed out Fremont Ross' Mal Mackey by only two ballots. Mackey, who suffered a heart attack last year and turned the Little Giants over to his assistants, came back this season to post his third straight unbeaten campaign.

Augie Bossu of Cleveland Benedictine's unbeaten Bengals was third, and Lou Juillerat of Troy, who has a 27-game winning streak in the works, was fourth.

Others high on the list included Hilton Murphy of unbeaten Toledo Devilbiss, Ben Wilson of undefeated Mt. Vernon, Lou Florio of Hamilton, Lee Tressel of Massillon, Tom Ballaban of Cincinnati St. Xavier, Larry Peterson of Lancaster, and Gil Smith, whose Van Wert Cougars haven't lost a game since 1954.

In a "sentiment-finding" vote which has no bearing on the final selections, The Associated Press voters tossed Mackey and Slaughter into a deadlock as choices to coach the Northern All-Stars in next August's North-South game at Canton. Juillerat was the runaway choice for the "Rebel" berth, with Wilson of Mt. Vernon second.

The Ohio High School Football Coaches Assn. will select the North and South all-star coaches, with only members of the group having a vote.

Back of Mackey and Slaughter in the northern race were Bossu, Murphy, Tressel, Leo Strang of East Cleveland Shaw, and Joe Knapic of Campbell Memorial. No others were mentioned.

In the south the closest to Juillerat and Wilson were Peterson of Lancaster, Jim McCarthy of Cincinnati Purcell, Florio of Hamilton, Smith of Van Wert, Howard Baughman of Portsmouth, Jim Vennari of Rutland, and Dick Pfleger of Gahanna Lincoln.

In other voting Bobby Ferguson of Troy, who has gained 5,521 yards and scored 578 points in four years, was named the state's best offensive back. Middletown's 220-pound 6-4 quarterback, Jack Wallace, was voted the best defensive back.

Offensive lineman laurels went to 245-pound 6-2 Ron Skufca, Cleveland Benedictine tackle. The defensive lineman vote wound up in a tie between Dayton Fairmont's Charley Foreman, stalwart on a team which gave up only 28 points, and Larry Longanbach of Fremont Ross.

Others high in the voting were: Offensive back: Ivory Benjamin of Massillon, Larry Baughman of Lancaster, Dan Kwiatkowski of Toledo Devilbiss, George Sefcik of Cleveland Benedictine, and John Mumme of Painesville Harvey.

Defensive back: George Hale of East Liverpool, and Merv Spencer of Youngstown South, both of whom also picked up many offensive votes.

Offensive lineman: Ron Weldy of Piqua, Wayne Farmer of Steubenville, Bob McCloud of Toledo Devilbiss, and Jack Pietela of Warren Harding.

Defensive lineman: Owensby Pearson of Akron South, Don Anderson of Lancaster, and Ken Knapp of Hamilton.

Brown Is Favored To Retain Crown

CHICAGO (AP)—Lightweight champion Joe Brown, a 3-1 favorite to defeat challenger Joey Lopez in their title bout at Chicago Stadium Wednesday night, will end his workouts today.

Brown, making the third defense of the title he won from Bud Smith more than a year ago, will spar for two rounds today before calling it quits.

Trainer Bill Gore says the 31-year-old champion is down to the 135-pound weight limit and will be in tip-top shape for the fight which will be nationally televised at 10 p. m. EST.

All Six Area Teams To Play This Week

Basketball games are coming up Tuesday night for two of the six high school teams in this area, but neither of them will be on home floors.

The Lions of Washington C. H. High School, who lost their season's opener, 53-48, to Bexley's Lions here last Friday night, are going to Westerville and New Holland's Bulldogs, with a 4-1 record, will be playing at Madison South.

However, all six of them will be in action before the end of the week.

Wayne's Mad Anthony's (1-5) will play the Bulldogs (4-2) at Bloomington Friday night in the season's first Fayette County League game.

That same night, the Lions of WHS will play their first South-central Ohio (SCO) League game with the Hurricane at Wilmington and New Holland's Bulldogs will play their third Pickaway County League game at Monroe.

On Saturday night, Madison Mills Warriors will meet the Jeffersonville Tigers on the Bloomington floor, although this is a "home game" for the Tigers. This will be the first Fayette County League game for both teams.

New Yorkers Keep Table Tennis Toga

COLUMBUS (AP)—The national team table tennis championship belongs to New York State again. They have won the crown every year except two since the tournament began in 1936.

A two-day tourney here wound up Sunday with the New York team having a perfect 7-0 record, followed by Illinois, 6-1; Washington, D. C., 5-2; Ohio, 4-3; Michigan, 3-4; Canada, 2-5; New Jersey 1-6; and Indiana 0-7.

Each team played a best-of-nine series with each of the other seven.

College Cage Outfits Open Play Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The collegians start big time basketball today. Six of last season's top 10 teams open their schedules.

Wilt Chamberlain, the seven-footer who was a sophomore All America for Kansas, will lead last season's No. 2 team against newly independent Oklahoma State.

Other games involving last season's ranked:

Kentucky (No. 3) meets Duke; Southern Methodist (No. 4) plays Minnesota; Louisville (No. 6), opens at Evansville; Vanderbilt (No. 8) is at Sewanee; and Oklahoma City (No. 9) opposes Houston.

Also testing their strength will be several schools anxious to move into the top 10. They include Rice against New Mexico A&M; Michigan State against Butler; Indiana against Ohio U.; Temple against Delaware; and LaSalle against Millersville.

Coach Dick Harp's Kansas Jayhawks (24-3 last season) will be minus four 1956-57 starters. Chamberlain, who averaged 29.6 points per game, will be called on to handle a greater burden.

Wilt won't be the biggest man on a court tonight. Gonzaga University is debuting its French phenom, freshman Jean Claude (Feets) Lefebvre, a 7-3 1/2 example of reverse lend-lease from a farm near Paris. Lefebvre and colleagues will oppose Idaho.

St. Louis Keglers Retain U. S. Title

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The National Team Match Game Bowling Championship remains in St. Louis for the third straight year.

The newly organized Falstaffs took the Chicago Reserves 24,801 to 23,941. The St. Louis team was outrolled at Chicago in the first 12 games of the series but rallied strongly here, wiping out a 522 pin deficit Saturday and mopping up Sunday in the final six games.

Billy Welu and Harry Smith were the big guns for St. Louis with Welu rolling 5,119, the top individual score.

Bucks Start Prep For Rose Bowl Tilt

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes, Big Ten football champions, started today on their first of 16 allotted practices for the Rose Bowl game with Oregon.

Coach Woody Hayes said he didn't think last week's layoff had any adverse conditioning effect on his players.

"We'll go back to work on fundamentals Monday," said Hayes, "and work pretty hard."

Today's practice will be held indoors if extremely cold weather continues. Hayes said he wants his Bucks to drill as nearly as possible in temperatures comparable to those they will encounter at Pasadena, Calif., Jan. 1, the day of the "run for the roses."

Cincy Royals Shine Bright In Pro Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Royals, who transferred their National Basketball Assn. operations from Rochester to Cincinnati, are giving their new fans something to shout about.

With big Clyde Lovellette in the starring role, the Royals have climbed to within 1 1/2 games of the Western Division leading St. Louis Hawks.

Sunday night, Lovellette came up with a 13-point outburst in the last six minutes that helped hoist Cincinnati to a 90-89 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers.

In other games, the Syracuse Nationals handed the Boston Celtics their second setback, 118-109 and the New York Knickerbockers overcame Detroit 109-102.

Syracuse had an easy time of it against Boston, which was without the services of Bob Cousy. Jim Loscutoff and Arnie Risen. Dolph Schayes led the winners with 37 points while Bill Russell paced the losers with 27.

George Yardley collected 30 points for Detroit. But the Pistons were unable to stay with the Knickerbockers, who took command with 10 straight points early in the third quarter. Willie Naulls topped New York with 25 points.

U. N. Aide Seeks To Settle New Mideast Fuss

Trouble Seen Coming Wednesday as Israel Tries Move Convoy

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld continued talks with Jordanian leaders today but there was no indication of compromise in the dispute U. N. sources feared might bring an open clash with Israel.

Trouble could break out Wednesday, when an Israeli convoy again is scheduled to go to Israeli-held Mt. Scopus, inside Jordanian territory.

A spokesman for Hammarskjöld said that shooting might result if Jordan continues to refuse to allow convoys through and Israel insists on sending them.

Hammarskjöld arrived from Beirut Sunday and soon after talked at length with 23-year-old King Hussein, had two long sessions with Foreign Minister and Deputy Premier Samir Rifai and met briefly with Premier Ibrahim Hashem.

A communique said Hammarskjöld and Jordanian leaders discussed "problems relating to the strengthening of the position of the U. N. truce supervision organization, particularly in the Mt. Scopus demilitarized area."

HAMMARSKJÖLD flew to the Middle East last week after Jordan turned back two Israeli convoys to Mt. Scopus and also demanded that U. S. Marine Col. Byron Leary be removed as chief U. N. truce observer.

The Jordanians charged that gasoline carried by the convoys constituted military supplies barred by the Palestine armistice. Israel contended that the gasoline is needed for an electric generator on Mt. Scopus, a low hill inside the Arab-held Old City of Jerusalem. The hill, occupied by Israel ever since the Palestine War, is the site of Hadassah Hospital and the Hebrew University.

Jordan claimed that Col. Leary was biased in Israel's favor and announced it would no longer accept him as a mediator. Hammarskjöld in reply expressed full confidence in the Marine officer.

Jordan officials said Rifai in the talks with Hammarskjöld adamantly refused to compromise either issue. U. N. officials feared particularly that the question of the convoys, which supply Israelis guarding the hospital and university buildings on Mt. Scopus, would touch off fighting. Some observers fear that unless the Jordanians relent, the Israelis may try to rush a convoy through with military force.

Clashes also have increased on the Israeli-Jordan border in recent weeks. Israel reported two outbreaks Sunday and said an Israeli guard was wounded.

The Israeli Cabinet met to discuss the latest border tensions. Hammarskjöld is scheduled to arrive in Israel Tuesday and will go to Damascus afterward.

Outside-U.S. Oil Production Declines

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A survey by The Oil and Gas Journal shows crude oil production in free world areas outside the United States declined in September for the third consecutive month.

The Journal said oil production in free world areas outside this country totaled 8,487,000 barrels a day compared with 8,887,000 barrels daily in the United States. U. S. production represented the first recent domestic gain in a period of general world decline.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Because of their wide meanderings about their valleys, Fayette County streams have added several miles to their length.

Probably Main, Paint and Sugar Creek are the most meandering creeks in the county and Main Paint north of Washington C. H. has at least a dozen big curves in it which add more to its length and to the slowness of its current.

For instance, recently in coming homeward from Bookwalter, I crossed Paint Creek four times within a matter of three miles.

The first crossing was on the Reid Rd., south of Bookwalter, and the other three crossings were on the Hidy Rd. where all of the crossings are spanned by old-time bridges.

Sugar Creek, from the point where it crosses Route 35 west, to where it empties into Paint Creek near the former Sturgeon Mill site, five miles south of Washington C. H., has at least 18 sizeable crooks in it.

Some of the other main creeks in the county also have their share of turns in their snaky course down across the county.

Many of these curves in the streams were caused in the early days when the streams became almost completely blocked by fallen trees, and overflowed into new channels, leaving the old channels to be filled by the forests.

Paint Creek originally flowed around where Circle Ave. is now located but changed its course hundreds of years ago when its normal flow was blocked by fallen trees.

Some of the changes were due to the streams cutting their outer banks on some of the curves, until, during flood times, they cut new channels that were shorter than the old.

MOVED FROM SIDEWALKS

It has been approximately 30 years since Mayor Rell G. Allen issued an edict that all gasoline pumps must be moved from the sidewalks of the city and placed elsewhere.

At that time several gasoline pumps were on the sidewalks in front of garages, and in some instances the gasoline tanks were buried under the sidewalks.

The order brought considerable protest, but Mayor Allen had the reputation of seeing that orders were carried out, so all of the offending pumps were moved. This did more to start service stations locating back from the sidewalk than anything else up to that time.

Two gasoline pumps stood on the sidewalk in front of what is now the Phillips Garage on S. Fayette St., and the building was being used for a garage by the owner.

To still retain the service station, the owner of the building decided to cut away the front of the structure and move the front back some 15 feet to permit service pumps being placed back of the sidewalk a sufficient distance to allow motor vehicles to drive between the pumps and sidewalk, and also between the pumps and the front of the building.

The building had stood flush with the sidewalk, or nearly so when the order was issued, so the front was removed and rebuilt as it is today.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The British lost considerable ground to counter-attacking Germans around Cambrai, then recovered and forced Germans back in some of most bitter fighting of World War I.

An American ammunition ship rammed a passenger liner in Halifax, Nova Scotia harbor and terrific explosion wrecked the waterfront killing hundreds and injured several thousand people. The Austrians failed to dent lines of Italians on the Piave River front.

All Company M men in France were reported well and in good spirits.

A record sum of $13,500,000,000 was asked of Congress to prosecute the war.

War was declared on Austria at the request of President Woodrow Wilson.

The "Birth of a Nation" was to be shown at the high school auditorium.

Council in called session, adopted an ordinance to fix salaries of the mayor and police chief at $1,100 each per year, and drop fees. The meeting later was found to be illegal, and the action did not stand.

Council ended the office of the safety - service director in the city.

New Zealand Asks Nuclear Test Ban

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—New Zealand's Prime Minister-elect, Walter Nash, today joined Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi in calling for a ban on nuclear weapon tests.

Nash, whose Labor Party won control of Parliament in elections Saturday, came out against the tests at a state luncheon in honor of the visiting Japanese Premier. Outgoing Conservative Minister Sidney Holland had supported Britain's continuing to develop and test nuclear weapons.

Brothers Held For Kidnaping Columbus Baby

Infant Is Abandoned In Chilly Auto by Pair in Portsmouth

COLUMBUS (AP)—Two Columbus brothers abandoned a 3-month-old baby in Portsmouth early Sunday about three hours after they found it in a car they had stolen here.

Police said the infant, Robert Wayne Herlitz, was left in another car in Portsmouth in 19-degree temperatures as the brothers, Nathaniel, 23, and William Sexton, 19, went through that city.

The baby was clad only in a diaper, apparently having kicked off blankets wrapped around him. He was unharmed, but chilled.

The brothers were arrested near Ironton and were brought back to Columbus Sunday night to face possible auto theft and kidnaping charges. Police indicated that formal charges against them will await further questioning.

Columbus detectives, who brought the brothers back from Ironton, said the act of abandoning the baby was "the meanest trick we've ever seen."

"The kid was in our way," the brothers declared.

THE INFANT had been left in a car "for a few seconds" about 1 a. m. Sunday by his mother, Mrs. Wayne H. Herlitz, 17, whose husband is on duty with the Air Force in Greenland.

She said she went into a cafe to pick up a girl friend and when she returned, the car was gone.

The state highway patrol was alerted and at 3:32 a. m. a patrolman spotted the Herlitz car parked in Glenvale, two miles west of Ironton. He said lights were on in a nearby house and he found the brothers there with their sister-in-law.

After questioning, the brothers admitted they stole the car and abandoned the baby.

At 4:32 a. m. another patrolman found the baby in the front seat of an old car parked in Portsmouth and rushed the infant to Mercy Hospital there.

Officers said the fact that the baby was crying, kicking its feet and waving its arms, kept blood circulating and probably kept it from freezing to death.

The hospital said the child was suffering from extreme exposure but was in good condition and probably will be released today.

The brothers said they threw away the infant's clothing as they drove along U. S. 23 near Chillicothe. They said they traded $100 worth of tools which they found in the Herlitz car for $2 worth of gasoline in Waverly.

They told police they stopped at their sister-in-law's home to try to borrow some money before they continued on to Kentucky.

Hunters should wear yellow, says the Better Vision Institute. Most hunters wear red, but many people have a type of color blindness which confuses red with green.

U. S. Capital Benefit-Mad; Everyone in on Fund Drives

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The capital is bazaar and benefit-mad and the fund-raisers are making money like crazy. Charity is sweet, big business, with everyone of importance from the First Lady on down pitching in.

White House, congressional, military and diplomatic wives not only freely lend their names as sponsors to many of these affairs, but often take a personally active part in them. This is the season for giving, and socialites are making the most of it.

Mrs. Eisenhower spent nearly an hour at a bazaar for the House of Mercy (home for unwed mothers). She not only opened the event, but donated a cake and four dozen Mamie Pink carnations which sold for 50 cents each. That isn't all, she bought two Chinese rice bowls and several other small items. A painting by Mrs. Sherman Adams, wife of the presidential assistant, was purchased by Budget Secretary Percival F. Brundage for $85.

Mrs. John Eisenhower, the President's daughter-in-law, opened an antique show in nearby Alexandria, Va., where she and Maj. Eisenhower and their four children are now making their home. She made one purchase but begged it be kept secret. "It's a gift," she explained.

Embassy Row wives are always eager participants in local fund-raising events, lending their names to the patrons' lists, contributing exotic gifts and native foods to the bazaars, modeling native costume, and working and buying as well.

At the International Gift Mart, items made by refugees in 11 countries sold like hot cakes. Tea was

U. N. Aide Seeks To Settle New Mideast Fuss

Trouble Seen Coming Wednesday as Israel Tries Move Convoy

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld continued talks with Jordanian leaders today but there was no indication of compromise in the dispute U. N. sources feared might bring an open clash with Israel.

Trouble could break out Wednesday, when an Israeli convoy again is scheduled to go to Israeli-held Mt. Scopus, inside Jordanian territory.

A spokesman for Hammarskjöld said that shooting might result if Jordan continues to refuse to allow convoys through and Israel insists on sending them.

Hammarskjöld arrived from Beirut Sunday and soon after talked at length with 23-year-old King Hussein, had two long sessions with Foreign Minister and Deputy Premier Samir Rifai and met briefly with Premier Ibrahim Hashem.

A communique said Hammarskjöld and Jordanian leaders discussed "problems relating to the strengthening of the position of the U. N. truce supervision organization, particularly in the Mt. Scopus demilitarized area."

HAMMARSKJÖLD flew to the Middle East last week after Jordan turned back two Israeli convoys to Mt. Scopus and also demanded that U. S. Marine Col. Byron Leary be removed as chief U. N. truce observer.

The Jordanians charged that gasoline carried by the convoys constituted military supplies barred by the Palestine armistice. Israel contended that the gasoline is needed for an electric generator on Mt. Scopus, a low hill inside the Arab-held Old City of Jerusalem. The hill, occupied by Israel ever since the Palestine War, is the site of Hadassah Hospital and the Hebrew University.

Jordan claimed that Col. Leary was biased in Israel's favor and announced it would no longer accept him as a mediator. Hammarskjöld in reply expressed full confidence in the Marine officer.

Jordan officials said Rifai in the talks with Hammarskjöld adamantly refused to compromise either issue. U. N. officials feared particularly that the question of the convoys, which supply Israelis guarding the hospital and university buildings on Mt. Scopus, would touch off fighting. Some observers fear that unless the Jordanians relent, the Israelis may try to rush a convoy through with military force.

Clashes also have increased on the Israeli-Jordan border in recent weeks. Israel reported two outbreaks Sunday and said an Israeli guard was wounded.

The Israeli Cabinet met to discuss the latest border tensions. Hammarskjöld is scheduled to arrive in Israel Tuesday and will go to Damascus afterward.

Outside-U.S. Oil Production Declines

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A survey by The Oil and Gas Journal shows crude oil production in free world areas outside the United States declined in September for the third consecutive month.

The Journal said oil production in free world areas outside this country totaled 8,487,000 barrels a day compared with 8,887,000 barrels daily in the United States. U. S. production represented the first recent domestic gain in a period of general world decline.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Because of their wide meanderings about their valleys, Fayette County streams have added several miles to their length.

Probably Main, Paint and Sugar Creek are the most meandering creeks in the county and Main Paint north of Washington C. H. has at least a dozen big curves in it which add much to its length and to the slowness of its current.

For instance, recently in coming homeward from Bookwalter, I crossed Paint Creek four times within a matter of three miles.

The first crossing was on the Reid Rd., south of Bookwalter. and the other three crossings were on the Hidy Rd. where all of the crossings are spanned by old-time bridges.

Sugar Creek, from the point where it crosses Route 35 west, to where it empties into Paint Creek near the former Sturgeon Mill site, five miles south of Washington C. H., has at least 18 sizeable crooks in it.

Some of the other main creeks in the county also have their share of turns in their snaky course down across the county.

Many of these curves in the streams were caused in the early days when the streams became almost completely blocked by fallen trees, and overflowed into new channels, leaving the old channels to be filled by the forests.

Paint Creek originally flowed around where Circle Ave. is now located but changed its course hundreds of years ago when its normal flow was blocked by fallen trees.

Some of the changes were due to the streams cutting their outer banks on some of the curves, until, during flood times, they cut new channels that were shorter than the old.

MOVED FROM SIDEWALKS

It has been approximately 30 years since Mayor Rell G. Allen issued an edict that all gasoline pumps must be moved from the sidewalks of the city and placed elsewhere.

At that time several gasoline pumps were on the sidewalks in front of garages, and in some instances the gasoline tanks were buried under the sidewalks.

The order brought considerable protest, but Mayor Allen had the reputation of seeing that orders were carried out, so all of the offending pumps were moved. This did more to start service stations locating back from the sidewalk than anything else up to that time.

Two gasoline pumps stood on the sidewalk in front of what is now the Phillips Garage on S. Fayette St., and the building was being used for a garage by the owner.

To still retain the service station, the owner of the building decided to cut away the front of the structure and move the front back some 15 feet to permit service pumps being placed back of the sidewalk a sufficient distance to allow motor vehicles to drive between the pumps and sidewalk, and also between the pumps and the front of the building.

The building had stood flush with the sidewalk, or nearly so when the order was issued, so the front was removed and rebuilt as it is today.

Democrats To Furnish Ohio Primary Election Fireworks

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Democrats will supply the fireworks in Ohio's primary election campaigns.

They already are assured of nomination contests for governor and lieutenant governor and are looking for clashes in other primary races.

By contrast, Republicans expect to present a veteran team of incumbents in the hope of avoiding nomination battles that often leave parties divided and weakened in pay-off elections the following November.

The Democratic executive committee of 180 members meets in Columbus Monday night to receive a report from an advisory group created to encourage candidacy and insure a full slate of nominees for state and congressional posts.

The advisory committee headed by Murray D. Lincoln, head of Nationwide Insurance Co., Columbus, considers a long list of prospective candidates Monday afternoon.

Several Democrats didn't wait to be "screened" by Lincoln's committee.

Mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner of Columbus and Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland announced for governor earlier, possibly in the hope of discouraging others poised to jump into the contest.

Sensenbrenner said he did his own screening. Celebrezze said he made up his mind about two weeks ago to bid for the right to oppose GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill in the November election.

Standing by as potential participants in the Democratic race for the gubernatorial race are Thomas A. Burke, former U.S. Senator and mayor of Cleveland; Cuyahoga County Engineer Albert S. Porter and Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo mayor and federal price controller, who lost previous races for governor and U. S. Senator.

Announced candidates for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor are Roy Hoppie, Columbus attorney, and Mayor Edward P. Lenney of Niles.

Judge Charles B. Zimmerman of the Ohio Supreme Court has announced for reelection on the Democratic ticket.

Former Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland was the first to announce for the right to oppose Republican U.S. Sen. John W. Bricker of Columbus, who is expected to seek reelection.

Among possible challengers of Young for the senatorial nomination is Dr. William E. Stevenson, president of Oberlin College. Burke also is under consideration as a senatorial candidate.

U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, whose term runs to 1962, looms as an enigma in the primary battles. He is a friend of both Burke and Celebrezze but has declined to take sides in the primary. Associates of Celebrezze said he sought Lausche's endorsement in the primary.

Reports indicated that efforts were under way to prevent a three-way race by Clevelanders for the gubernatorial nomination that would cut up the big Democratic vote in Cuyahoga County.

Business before the Democratic Executive Committee includes campaign fund raising and selection of a site so party state headquarters can move from its expensive suite in the Deshler-Hilton Hotel.

A resolution prepared by Don Gosney, 18th District state central committeeman, and John Taylor of Salem, nominee for lieutenant governor two years ago, asserted the hotel headquarters led to claims that the party operated in "smoke filled rooms".

The resolution suggested that Ohio Democrats obtain an obsolete home on Columbus' East Broad St. for remodeling into a state headquarters and historic shrine for use during party gatherings and legislative sessions.

The executive committee also will prepare for classes to train precinct leaders next Jan. 25 and 26 in campaign strategy and to pick a date for the 1958 Jefferson-Jackson dinner held annually by the party.

Democrats assert that prospects are improving for them to capture one or more state offices, now monopolized by Republicans, and to cut into the top-heavy GOP majority in Ohio's congressional delegation.

An added incentive is present

for candidates to contest for state offices. The new terms will be the first to run for four years, instead of the current two-year span.

O'Neill, Bricker and Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert are expected to announce soon for Republican re-nominations. Incumbents declaring for new terms include Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and state Treasurer Roger W. Tracy. The present four-year term of state Auditor James A. Rhodes runs to 1960 and is not at issue next year.

Ceilings of the trading rooms of the new New York Coffee — Sugar Exchange look like upside down waves. The rolling effect reduces reverberations resulting from the shouts of traders when business is brisk.

Extra Home Work Idea Irks Scouts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dr. Mortimer Adler, noted scholar and philosopher, met with boos and hisses here when he suggested to some 500 San Francisco Boy Scouts that they increase their home work to help the United States catch up with Russia on the educational front.

Dr. Adler told the explorer Scouts aged 14 to 17:

"The future of our country depends on your learning more than what the schools now require. A serious deficiency in the schools is that you're not given enough homework."

This brought lusty boos and hisses from the scouts.

"I would," he said, "expect a sound amount of school work would mean four to five hours of home study a day."

This brought more boos and hisses, but also scattered applause.

He continued:

"I didn't intend to make you angry, but you are no longer children."

"We expect a lot of you and you ought to expect a lot of yourself."

"What you do in life depends, in large part, on what you do in school. It is important that you do well because the future of this country depends upon your generation."

Washington C. H., Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democrats will supply the fireworks in Ohio's primary election campaigns.

They already are assured of nomination contests for governor and lieutenant governor and are looking for clashes in other primary races.

By contrast, Republicans expect to present a veteran team of incumbents in the hope of avoiding nomination battles that often leave parties divided and weakened in pay-off elections the following November.

The Democratic executive committee of 180 members meets in Columbus Monday night to receive a report from an advisory group created to encourage candidacy and insure a full slate of nominees for state and congressional posts.

The advisory committee headed by Murray D. Lincoln, head of Nationwide Insurance Co., Columbus, considers a long list of prospective candidates Monday afternoon.

Several Democrats didn't wait to be "screened" by Lincoln's committee.

Mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner of Columbus and Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland announced for governor earlier, possibly in the hope of discouraging others poised to jump into the contest.

Sensenbrenner said he did his own screening. Celebrezze said he made up his mind about two weeks ago to bid for the right to oppose GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill in the November election.

Standing by as potential participants in the Democratic race for the gubernatorial race are Thomas A. Burke, former U.S. Senator and mayor of Cleveland; Cuyahoga County Engineer Albert S. Porter and Michael V. DiSalle, former Toledo mayor and federal price controller, who lost previous races for governor and U. S. Senator.

Former Congressman Robert T. Secrest of Seneca, a member of the Federal Trade Commission, asserted he could win the governorship but indicated he would not make the race.

Judge Charles B. Zimmerman of the Ohio Supreme Court has announced for reelection on the Democratic ticket.

Former Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland was the first to announce for the right to oppose Republican U.S. Sen. John W. Bricker of Columbus, who is expected to seek reelection.

Among possible challengers of Young for the senatorial nomination is Dr. William E. Stevenson, president of Oberlin College. Burke also is under consideration as a senatorial candidate.

U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, whose term runs to 1962, looms as an enigma in the primary battles. He is a friend of both Burke and Announced candidates for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor are Roy Hoppie, Columbus attorney, and Mayor Edward P. Lenney of Niles.

Reports indicated that efforts were under way to prevent a three-way race by Clevelanders for the gubernatorial nomination that would cut up the big Democratic vote in Cuyahoga County.

Business before the Democratic Executive Committee includes campaign fund raising and selection of a site so party state headquarters can move from its expensive suite in the Deshler-Hilton Hotel.

A resolution prepared by Don Gosney, 18th District state central committeeman, and John Taylor of Salem, nominee for lieutenant governor two years ago, asserted the hotel headquarters led to Celebrezze but has declined to take sides in the primary. Associates of Celebrezze said he sought Lausche's endorsement in the primary.

The resolution suggested, that Ohio Democrats obtain an obsolete home on Columbus' East Broad St. for remodeling into a state headquarters and historic shrine for use during party gatherings and legislative sessions.

The executive committee also will prepare for classes to train precinct leaders next Jan. 25 and 26 in campaign strategy and to pick a date for the 1958 Jefferson-Jackson dinner held annually by the party.

Democrats assert that prospects are improving for them to capture one or more state offices, now monopolized by Republicans, and to cut into the top-heavy GOP majority in Ohio's congressional delegation.

An added incentive is present

for candidates to contest for state offices. The new terms will be the first to run for four years, instead of the current two-year span.

O'Neill, Bricker and Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert are expected to announce soon for Republican renominations. Incumbents declaring for new terms include Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown and state Treasurer Roger W. Tracy. The present four-year term of state Auditor James A. Rhodes runs to 1960 and is not at issue next year.

is that you're not given enough homework." This brought lusty boos and hisses from the scouts. "I would," he said, "expect a sound amount of school work would mean four to five hours of home study a day."

He continued: "I didn't intend to make you angry, but you are no longer children."

"We expect a lot of you and you ought to expect a lot of yourself."

"What you do in life depends, in large part, on what you do in school. It is important that you do well because the future of this country depends upon your generation."

Extra Home Work Idea Irks Scouts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dr. Mortimer Adler, noted scholar and philosopher, met with boos and hisses here when he suggested to some 500 San Francisco Boy Scouts that they increase their home work to help the United States catch up with Russia on the educational front.

Dr. Adler told the explorer Scouts aged 14 to 17:

"The future of our country depends on your learning more than what the schools now require. A serious deficiency in the schools

'GOLDEN CONNIE'—Here are the front and reverse sides of the new gold coins which the Munich, Germany, state mint will soon put into production. The official title of the coin is the "Konrad Adenauer Gold Medal," already nicknamed "Golden Connie." A portrait of the chancellor is on the front.

BY RAY BRANDENBURG

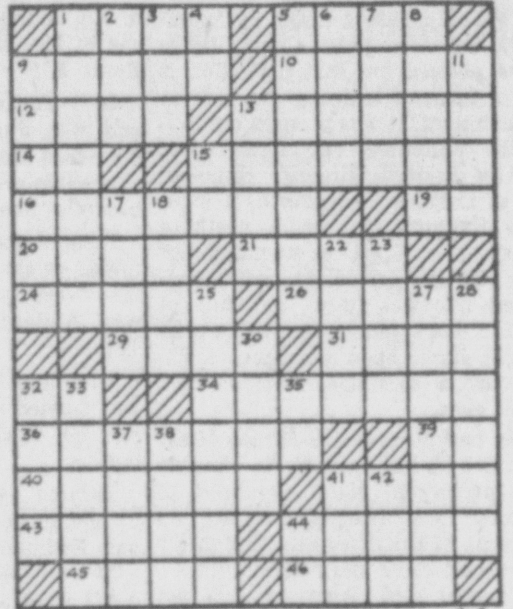

Our Rotary Club "bussed" over to Wright - Patterson field last week. After a nice lunch we were driven over the two fields and a nice explanation of what goes on was given by our host. He kept emphasizing that this building or that airplane cost so many millions of our money. I just thought as we were going along that if all this same money could be used to build schools, churches and highways there would be plenty and some left. But I guess it just can't be that way. Too many greedy, selfish and cruel people in some parts of the world.

Another Thanksgiving Day was pleasantly enjoyed by our family last week. We spent the day with the kids and grandchildren quietly at home. Quietly isn't the correct word with eight grandchildren playing in the house. But I'd rather feed them than doctor them and noise never bothered me anyway. As each Thanksgiving comes we realize more and more the many things we have to be thankful for. Let's all try hard to maintain our spirit of thankfulness and good will through the entire year. We are very grateful for our home, our family, our friends and customers, our schools and churches and just being a part of a fine community such as ours. Let's all work together, play together and argue together if you please, but as has been said: "my country right or wrong, but still my country."

Sheik Eyes Eleanor As His 40th Wife

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (P)—An Arab sheik with 39 wives would like to marry Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, according to her son James, the California congressman.

Speaking at a State of Israel bond rally, Roosevelt said that while he was in Israel a sheik formally requested to see him to make the offer.

Roosevelt jokingly turned aside the request by telling officials, "I would agree to see him if the state of Israel would promise to pass a law saying that Arabs could add no more wives to those they already have."

Our Rotary Club "bussed" over to Wright - Patterson field last week. After a nice lunch we were driven over to a two flocks and a nice explanation of what goes on was given by our host. He kept emphasizing that this building or that airplane cost so many millions of our money. I just thought as we were going along that if all this same money could be used to build schools, churches and highways there would be plenty and some left. But I guess it just can't be that way. Too many greedy, selfish and cruel people in some parts of the world.

Another Thanksgiving Day was pleasantly enjoyed by our family last week. We spent the day with the kids and grandchildren quietly at home. Quietly isn't the correct word with eight grandchildren playing in the house. But I'd rather feed them than doctor them and noise never bothered me anyway. As each Thanksgiving comes we realize more and more the many things we have to be thankful for. Let's all try hard to maintain our spirit of thankfulness and good will through the entire year. We are very grateful for our home, our family, our friends and customers, our schools and churches and just being a part of a fine community such as ours. Let's all work together, play together and argue together if you please, but as has been said: "my country right or wrong but still my country."

Sheik Eyes Eleanor As His 40th Wife

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—An Arab sheik with 39 wives would like to marry Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, according to her son James, the California congressman.

Speaking at a State of Israel bond rally, Roosevelt said that while he was in Israel a sheik formally requested to see him to make the offer.

Roosevelt jokingly turned aside the request by telling officials, "I would agree to see him if the state of Israel would promise to pass a law saying that Arabs could add no more wives to those they already have."

Five Accidents But None Serious

No One Injured
In Any of Them

Five traffic accidents were reported to Washington C. H. police over the weekend, but no injuries were made. Property damage, in none was more than moderate.

Worst of the mishaps was reported about 2:15 p. m. Sunday when an auto driven by William Lee Fryer, 18, of Route 1, was involved in a collision with a car driven by William Davis, 55, of Cynthia.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Washington Ave. and Elm St., where the two drivers came upon each other at right angles. Investigating officers said each driver went through an amber traffic light. Damage was to the front end of Davis' car and the right front fender of Fryer's.

A TRUCK driven by Ireland A. Varney, 34, of Amlin, and a car driven by Harry Schneider, 65, of Cincinnati, sideswiped late Saturday morning, causing damage to the side of the car but none to the truck. Both vehicles were headed east on Court St. near Fayette St.

A Dayton & Southeastern bus driven by Larry Gene Clark, 22, of Franklin, turned from S. Fayette St. onto Circle Ave. about 6 p. m. Saturday and grazed the front of a car driven by Robert Edward English, 20, of 1117 S. Fayette St., which was at a Circle Ave. stop sign. Damage was slight.

A car driven by Charles Ruth, 21, of 1027 Broadway, was involved in a collision about 3:35 p. m. Saturday with an auto operated by Ralph Smith, Jr., 34, of Route 1, New Holland. Both cars were headed east on Court St. near Fayette St., when Smith started to pull out from behind a third auto, which was double-parked.

An auto driven by Forest Madison, 20, of Main St., Bloomington, skidded on gravel in an alley off Delaware St. near Eastern Ave. and hit a telephone pole, causing moderate damage to the car's front end.

Science Awards

(Continued from Page One) students in each of the four categories in both the junior and senior divisions are eligible to enter the district competition. Scholarships will be awarded the winners and medals probably will be given to the others who reach the district exhibit.

JUDGING by top scientists in all four fields will be on the basis of 20 per cent for originality, 20 per cent for skill in design, construction and arrangement, 25 per cent for clarity of explanation and demonstration, 25 per cent for interest in and general knowledge of the subject and 10 per cent for scientific of engineering value.

Sponsors of the program hope it will help reduce the national shortage of teachers and trained workers in various scientific fields as the world moves more and more toward automation.

Two Middletown men, who were once engineering classmates at Purdue University, will direct the program this year. They are Delbert C. Meyer, director of the Cardner Division of the Diamond Gardner Corp., general chairman, and Donald C. Osborne, assistant general superintendent of the Armo Steel Corp., Middletown works.

THE SCIENCE AWARDS Program was started in 1955 by Charles R. Hook, chairman of the board of Armo Steel Corp. Since that time, the number of participants has grown considerably. A total of 826 students entered exhibits last spring.

Students entrants are sponsored jointly by their schools and industries in their communities.

Two Fayette County students received recognition in the finals last spring at Middletown. Sarah Core, a senior in Washington C. H. High School, placed first with her exhibit in the science category and Robert Belt, a junior at Madison Mills, placed third in the engineering category. Miss Core, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis B. Core, is now a freshman at Duke University, where she is taking a science-education course with a view to a career as a science teacher. Belt, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Belt will be graduated from Madison Mills High School in 1959.

Telephone Company

OHIO BELL RATES have been increased 27 per cent, compared with a 102 per cent rise in the cost of living since 1940 and a 35 per cent average boost in telephone rates for the country as a whole, the company points out.

"The reasons for the forthcoming rate application are familiar to anyone doing business in this period of rising prices," the Ohio Bell official said:

"1. Higher cost of the record quantities of materials and equipment needed to meet the continuing heavy demand for service.

"2. The aforementioned higher wages, taxes and other day-to-day operating expenses.

"3. A resultant decline in return on the greatly enlarged telephone system on which the company must earn at a reasonable rate if it is to remain financially healthy and serve the public well."

Chest Campaign Now Nears Goal

Additional Donation
Sought from 200

With the Fayette County Community Chest Campaign still $1,594 away from its goal, Executive Secretary Monday that a special "extra solicitation" of some 200 business and professional men in downtown Washington C. H. will be made this week.

Letters are being sent out to each of the 200, asking that they donate additional funds now to help push the fund over its $23,500 goal. Almost all of those being contacted have given before, Harlow said, commenting, "but we want to make a special effort to get this year's drive up to its quota."

Last year's campaign achieved only 85 per cent of its goal, Harlow noted, saying, "most of the organizations on Community Chest rolls would be especially hard-pressed if they had to pare down their budgets two years in a row."

The chest had $21,905.63 in it as of Monday morning, Harlow said, adding that this includes almost all the money that has been collected in the county.

Only a scattered amount is still unreported—possibly $200," he said.

Nevertheless, Harlow observed that this year's campaign has passed the mark of last year's, which achieved only $20,000. Goals for this year's campaign and last year's are the same.

Milledgeville Man Fined on 2 Charges

Charges of failure to display two different licenses brought Raymond Rinehart, 21, of Milledgeville into Municipal Court Monday.

Rinehart was fined $25 and costs after he pleaded guilty to failure to display an auto tag on the front end of his car. At the same session, he was fined $15 and costs after he pleaded guilty to failure to display a hunting permit.

The hunting charge was filed by the Conservation Department and the auto tag by the Sheriff's Department, but both charges resulted from the same incident.

Fined $10 and costs for speeding was Evelyn J. Williams, 63, of Marion, who pleaded guilty.

Forfeiting bond for non-appearance on traffic charges were: Jesse Grooms, 47, Pittsburgh, driving without a license, $50; Franklin M. Viders, 29, Elm Grove, W. Va., reckless driving, $20; E. A. Vannorsdall, 58, Jeffersonville, running a red light, $15; and James E. Taylor, 36, Columbus, and Harry Baldwin, 47, Melvin, both speeding, $20 each.

Driver on Probation In Manslaughter Case

Charged with second degree (involuntary) manslaughter as the result of a traffic death on the CCC Highway last August, Albert Williams, 67, Hillsboro, was placed on five-year probation in Fayette County Common Pleas Court Monday morning.

Williams, through his counsel, John Bath, withdrew an earlier plea of not guilty to the grand jury indictment and entered a formal plea of guilty.

Trial of the case had been scheduled to begin at 9 a. m., but no jury had been summoned at Bath's request.

JUDGE JOHN P. CASE suspended imposition of sentence after Prosecuting Attorney Rollo Marchant recommended probation following a review of facts and circumstances in the case. The recommendation was with the restriction that William's driver's license be suspended until the defendant passes a State Highway Patrol examination.

This was made a part of the court order, and Williams was instructed to report to Court Bailiff David Whiteside monthly during the term of probation.

If Williams, a landscaper, fails to observe the probation terms, he is subject to a jail sentence of from 30 days to six months or a $500 fine (or both), or he could be sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary from one to 20 years.

CITING a 1938 decision in Cuayahoga Common Pleas Court, Judge Case pointed out that probation is not a form of leniency but a form of punishment. It was brought out that while Williams' car struck and fatally injured Timothy Hundley, 18, of Lebanon, working as a highway flagman four miles north of Washington C. H. on the night of Aug. 25, the driver was not intoxicated nor was he in violation of traffic laws other than that he might have been careless in observing a 25-mile-an-hour speed limit sign.

He had no previous record of arrests, and his counsel, in making the probation plea, produced 15 letters from friends and leading citizens of Hillsboro attesting to his good character and reliability.

Counsel said, Williams did not see the victim.

A $100,000 civil damage action, filed by T. Joseph Hundley, the victim's father, in Common Pleas Court here, has not yet been set for trial.

OSBORNE said the aerie here has been contributing to the support of Boys Village along with other Eagle aeries in Ohio. The Ladies Auxiliaries of the state also are participating in the project, he said and explained:

"Boys Village is operated by voluntary donations and has been in existence for 10 years. It is located on 130 acres of rich farming land between Smithville and Wooster, on Route 5. The capacity of the Village at present is 36 boys. The Eagles of Ohio donated a trade school to Boys Village last year. The present valuation has reached $40,000.00, and a campaign is now underway to raise $50,000.00 to build and equip a large ranch-style cottage at the Village which will accommodate 12 additional boys and their house parents.

"Boys are generally referred by Juvenile Courts and welfare agencies, and are between the ages of 12 and 16. Many of these boys are from broken homes. The work of the trained staff at Boys Village has been praised by State Agencies, who deal with the delinquent problems of youngsters."

Boy, 6, Injured When Hit on Road By Passing Car

A six-year-old Highland County boy is in "fair" condition at Memorial Hospital here today as he undergoes treatment for injuries he sustained when he was hit by a car near his home about 1 p. m. Sunday.

State Highway Patrolman Wayne Spengler identified the boy as Mike Smalley, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smalley of Route 2, Leesburg. He is said to have suffered chest cuts, broken ribs and possible internal injuries.

Patrolman Spengler said the boy was hit by a car operated by Bruce J. Carroll, 33, of Sabina. Carroll was not charged.

Reports indicate Mike was playing on the side of the New Martinsburg Rd. near his home (about a mile north of Route 28) when he suddenly darted into the road, just as Carroll's southbound car came over a hillcrest.

The boy collided with the right front fender of the car and was hurled into the ditch.

Five Accidents But None Serious

No One Injured In Any of Them

Five traffic accidents were reported to Washington C. H. police over the weekend, but no injuries were made. Property damage in none was more than moderate.

Worst of the mishaps was reported about 2:15 p. m. Sunday when an auto driven by William Lee Fryer, 18, of Route 1, was involved in a collision with a car driven by William Davis, 55, of Cynthia.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Washington Ave. and Elm St., where the two drivers came upon each other at right angles. Investigating officers said each driver went through an amber traffic light. Damage was to the front end of Davis' car and the right front fender of Fryer's.

A TRUCK driven by Ireland A. Varney, 34, of Amlin, and a car driven by Harry Schneider, 65, of Cincinnati, sideswiped late Saturday morning, causing damage to the side of the car but none to the truck. Both vehicles were headed east on Court St. near Fayette St.

A Dayton & Southeastern bus driven by Larry Gene Clark, 22, of Frankfort, turned from S. Fayette St. onto Circle Ave. about 6 p. m. Saturday and grazed the front of a car driven by Robert Edward English, 20, of 1117 S. Fayette St., which was at a Circle Ave. stop sign. Damage was slight.

A car driven by Charles Ruth, 21, of 1027 Broadway, was involved in a collision about 3:35 p. m. Saturday with an auto operated by Ralph Smith, Jr., 34, of Route 1, New Holland. Both cars were headed east on Court St. near Fayette St., when Smith started to pull out from behind a third auto, which was double-parked.

An auto driven by Forest Madisonporte of Main St., Bloomington, skidded on gravel in an alley off Delaware St. near Eastern Ave. and hit a telephone pole, causing moderate damage to the car's front end.

Science Awards

students in each of the four categories in both the junior and senior divisions are eligible to enter the district competition. Scholarships will be awarded the winners and medals probably will be given to the others who reach the district exhibit.

JUDGING by top scientists in all four fields will be on the basis of 20 per cent for originality, 20 per cent for skill in design, construction and arrangement, 25 per cent for clarity of explanation and demonstration, 25 per cent for interest in and general knowledge of the subject and 10 per cent for scientific of engineering value.

Sponsors of the program hope it will help reduce the national shortage of teachers and trained workers in various scientific fields as the world moves more and more toward automation.

Two Middletown men, who were once engineering classmates at Purdue University, will direct the program this year. They are Delbert C. Meyer, director of the Gardner Division of the Diamond Gardner Corp., general chairman, and Donald C. Osborne, assistant general superintendent of the Armo Steel Corp., Middletown works.

THE SCIENCE AWARDS Program was started in 1955 by Charles R. Hook, chairman of the board of Armo Steel Corp. Since that time, the number of participants has grown considerably. A total of 826 students entered exhibits last spring.

Students entrants are sponsored jointly by their schools and industries in their communities.

Two Fayette County students received recognition in the finals last spring at Middletown. Sarah Core, a senior in Washington C. H. High School, placed first with her exhibit in the science category and Robert Belt, a junior at Madison Mills, placed third in the engineering category. Miss Core, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis B. Core, is now a freshman at Duke University, where she is taking a science-education course with a view to a career as a science teacher. Belt, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Belt will be graduated from Madison Mills High School in 1959.

Telephone Company

enough to offset the continuing increases in costs.

OHIO BELL RATES have been increased 27 per cent, compared with a 102 per cent rise in the cost of living since 1940 and a 35 per cent average boost in telephone rates for the country as a whole, the company points out.

"The reasons for the forthcoming rate application are familiar to anyone doing business in this period of rising prices," the Ohio Bell official said:

"1. Higher cost of the record quantities of materials and equipment needed to meet the continuing heavy demand for service.

"2. The aforementioned higher wages, taxes and other day-to-day operating expenses.

"3. A resultant decline in return on the greatly enlarged telephone system on which the company must earn at a reasonable rate if it is to remain financially healthy and serve the public well."

Chest Campaign Now Nears Goal

Additional Donation Sought from 200

With the Fayette County Community Chest Campaign still $1,594 away from its goal, Executive Secretary Monday that a special "extra solicitation" of some 200 business and professional men in downtown Washington C. H. will be made this week.

Letters are being sent out to each of the 200, asking that they donate additional funds now to help push the fund over its $23,500 goal. Almost all of those being contacted have given before, Harlow said, commenting, "but we want to make a special effort to get this year's drive up to its quota."

Last year's campaign achieved only 85 per cent of its goal, Harlow noted, saying, "most of the organizations on Community Chest rolls would be especially hard-pressed if they had to pare down their budgets two years in a row."

The chest had $21,905.63 in it as of Monday morning, Harlow said, adding that this includes almost all the money that has been collected in the county.

Only a scattered amount is still unreported—possibly $200—"he said.

Nevertheless, Harlow observed that this year's campaign has passed the mark of last year's, which achieved only $20,000. Goals for this year's campaign and last year's are the same.

Milledgeville Man Fined on 2 Charges

Charges of failure to display two different licenses brought Raymond Rinehart, 21, of Milledgeville into Municipal Court Monday.

Rinehart was fined $25 and costs after he pleaded guilty to failure to display an auto tag on the front end of his car. At the same session, he was fined $15 and costs after he pleaded guilty to failure to display a hunting permit.

The hunting charge was filed by the Conservation Department and the auto tag by the Sheriff's Department, but both charges resulted from the same incident.

Fined $10 and costs for speeding was Evelyn J. Williams, 63, of Marion, who pleaded guilty.

Forfeiting bond for non-appearance on traffic charges were: Jesse Grooms, 47, Pittsburgh, driving without a license, $50; Franklin M. Viders, 29, Elm Grove, W. Va., reckless driving, $20; E. A. Vannorsdall, 58, Jeffersonville, running a red light, $15; and James E. Taylor, 36, Columbus, and Harry Baldwin, 47, Melvin, both speeding, $20 each.

Memorial Service Held by Elks Lodge

An impressive memorial service was held at 2 p. m. Sunday by the Washington C. H. Elks Lodge No. 129 for its 164 deceased members.

Only one name, Selby P. Gerstner, was added this year to roll of deceased members.

Music was provided for the service by Mrs. Marion Gage and Miss Shirley Stoughton.

William Stoughton, exalted ruler, opened the services. The Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, delivered the eulogy and Charles Fults, Elks' chaplain, pronounced the benediction.

The memorial ritual was conducted by the officers of the lodge.

Driver on Probation In Manslaughter Case

Charged with second degree (involuntary) manslaughter as the result of a traffic death on the CCC Highway last August, Albert Williams, 67, Hillsboro, was placed on five-year probation in Fayette County Common Pleas Court Monday morning.

Williams, through his counsel, John Bath, withdrew an earlier plea of not guilty to the grand jury indictment and entered a formal plea of guilty.

Trial of the case had been scheduled to begin at 9 a. m., but no jury had been summoned at Bath's request.

JUDGE JOHN P. CASE suspended imposition of sentence after Prosecuting Attorney Rollo Marchant recommended probation following a review of facts and circumstances in the case. The recommendation was with the restriction that William's driver's license be suspended until the defendant passes a State Highway Patrol examination.

Eagles To See Pictures of Boys Village

Members of the Eagles Lodge here will have an opportunity to learn more about Boys Village, one of the major projects of Eagles in Ohio, following the regular weekly business meeting Tuesday night.

Harold E. Snell, a past state president of the lodge, sent word Sunday that he will be here Tuesday to show colored slides of Boys Village, near Smithville, and make a first-hand report on the program being carried out there.

Charles Osborne, secretary-manager of the Eagle aerie here, said the business session Tuesday night would be brief and limited to routine matters in order to give more time to Snell's visual and verbal report on Boys Village.

The business meeting will be conducted by Nelson Whaley, worthy president of the aerie.

OSBORNE said the aerie here has been contributing to the support of Boys Village along with other Eagle aeries in Ohio. The Ladies Auxiliaries of the state also are participating in the project, he said and explained:

"Boys Village is operated by voluntary donations and has been in existence for 10 years. It is located on 130 acres of rich farming land between Smithville and Wooster, on Route 5. The capacity of the Village at present is 36 boys. The Eagles of Ohio donated a trade school to Boys Village last year. The present valuation has reached $40,000.00, and a campaign is now underway to raise $50,000.00 to build and equip a large ranch-style cottage at the Village which will accommodate 12 additional boys and their house parents.

"Boys are generally referred by Juvenile Courts and welfare agencies, and are between the ages of 12 and 16. Many of these boys are from broken homes. The work of the trained staff at Boys Village has been praised by State Agencies, who deal with the delinquent problems of youngsters."

Boy, 6, Injured When Hit on Road By Passing Car

A six-year-old Highland County boy is in "fair" condition at Memorial Hospital here today as he undergoes treatment for injuries he sustained when he was hit by a car near his home about 1 p. m. Sunday.

State Highway Patrolman Wayne Spengler identified the boy as Mike Smalley, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smalley of Route 2, Leesburg. He is said to have suffered chest cuts, broken ribs and possible internal injuries.

Patrolman Spengler said the boy was hit by a car operated by Bruce J. Carroll, 33, of Sabina. Carroll was not charged.

Reports indicate Mike was playing on the side of the New Martinsburg Rd. near his home (about a mile north of Route 28) when he suddenly darted into the road, just as Carroll's southbound car came over a hillcrest.

The boy collided with the right front fender of the car and was hurled into the ditch.
